

Monument Club Holds Shower

By Millie Wilson

The M. M. M. Club met last Thursday at the home of Lydia Capon with Clara Strecker as co-hostess. This was one of the largest meetings the club has had for some time. There were sixteen present beside the hostesses. There were five visitors present, Mary DuBosch, Mary McDaniels, Josephine Howell, Altha Wright, and Georgia Capon. Mrs. DuBosch and Mrs. McDaniels both joined the club. After a short business meeting the drawing for the white elephant, which was furnished by Helen Holmes was held. The lucky winner was Mrs. McDaniels. Clara Strecker was surprised by a handkerchief shower, the day being her birthday. Donnie Capon presented her with a lovely birthday cake and candles. The next meeting will be held at Goldie Round's. Delicious refreshments of fruit salad, fruit bread, coffee and cooldae were served by the hostesses. Those present were Ida Bleakman, Wave Jackson, Goldie Round, Altha Wright, Grace Stirritt, Iva Barnard, Iffie McKenny, Reta Cupper, Josephine Howell, Helen Brown, Mary DuBosch, Mary McDaniels, Ruby Rickard, Martha Mattesson, Georgia Capon, Millie Wilson, Clara Strecker and Lydia Capon.

Fire Prevention and Civil Defense Go Hand in Hand

Fire prevention is an important part of civil defense. If an enemy attacks this country, his bombs, whether they be atomic, high explosive, or incendiary, will cause more damage by fire than they will by blast. Hence, anything done to make it hard for fires to start is a step towards preparing your community to protect itself if war comes.

The majority of all fires start in attics, basements, or stored odds and ends that accumulate around the house. Closets, attics, and cellars are the main source of home fires, and plain ordinary good housekeeping is a strong line of defense against them.

Clean out your storage places. You will be surprised at how many burnable odds and ends are really useless to you. Don't let them make your home a fire hazard. Get rid of them. If local welfare agencies can't use them, call the junk man.

Don't stop when you've cleared out the inside of your house. Go after rubbish in your back yard, in alleys and in vacant lots near your home. Collect the rubbish and burn it. Don't leave it around to burn if an enemy bombs your city. Be sure to burn rubbish in metal containers.

Take a look at your electrical system. Buy new plugs and cords if yours are worn. Get advice from an electrician if your fuses blow frequently. They may be dangerously overloaded. His advice may prevent a bad fire.

Every winter costly fires are started by faulty furnaces, stoves, and other heating plants. Some result from too much soot in chimneys. Others are caused by rusted or cracked pipes and fittings. Look over your heating system now. If your chimney needs it, clean it out. If the furnace pipes and connections are cracked and rusted, replace them.

Tenck your family not to put magazines, papers, or clothing on radiators or near open flames. Don't hang flimsy curtains near your kitchen stove. Don't allow lamp shades to come in contact with light bulbs. Remember that such things don't have to touch flame to burn. They will catch fire simply because they are too close to the heat for too long.

Gasoline, benzine, naphtha, and similar fluids should never be used indoors. When mixed with air, their vapors can be ignited by the spark of a light switch or an electric fan, or the tiny flame of a pilot light. Keep such fluids in tightly closed metal containers outside your home.

And remember: oil-soaked rags, especially rags that have been used to spread quick-drying liquids such as turpentine, paint thinners, and some furniture polishes, can catch fire by themselves. Oily rags should be stored in air-tight metal containers. It is best to keep them outside the house.
