

Mustangs Win Forfeit Game; Meet John Day Fri.

Heppner's grid "11", who last week were awarded a 1-0 forfeit win over the Fossil squad, due to the inability of the Wheeler county high school to field a team, are girding for the invasion this Friday of the Prospectors from John Day.

The Grant Union squad is enjoying one of their finest seasons, their records marred only by one defeat at the hands of a strong Prineville team. Their team will line up against the Mustangs with a decided weight advantage in the front line. Their 185 pound average tops the local by 18 pounds to the man, the backfields, however appear about equal. Coach Whitbeck has pronounced his squad in fine condition and pointing for an upset win over the Grant county visitors. Last year the Mustangs came through with a 14-6 win, though odds were stacked well in favor of the John Day boys.

Game time is set for 2:00 at the rodeo field with the following Mustangs expected to start the fracas: ends, Roy Taylor and Gary Connors; tackles, El Bergstrom and Al Burkenbine; guards, Bill Hughes and Wes Marlatt; center, Keith Connor; quarterback Jim Smith; halfbacks, Bud Wagner and Wendel Connor, fullback, Jack Sumner.

As in the past, most Heppner stores will close during the game.

BROWNLOW REPLACES COLES ON GAZETTE TIMES

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brownlow of Zillah, Washington arrived in Heppner on Friday. Brownlow is linotype operator and printer for the Gazette Times. He is replacing Gordon Coles who has been taken back into the Marine Air Corps. The Coles left last week for El Toro, California where he is to report for duty.

BUSCHKE'S BUCK BIGGEST

Hep-Hi HI LITES

By Eleanor Rice and Don Blake

A contest between the classes in which the classes will compete against each other with their ideas for getting more pep for the big game this Friday, is being sponsored on Friday morning in the gymnasium by the Pep Club. There are four events which each class enters with 25 points for each: Decoration of the bulletin board, a new yell, the loudest cheering section, a pep speech or pep skit. The class with the most points out of the possible 100 will be the winner.

Mr. Pates comment on this new idea is, "It should greatly stimulate interest in the Athletic Program".

Officers of the Letter-Ettes were elected last Tuesday at the first meeting of the year. These officers are: Rieta Graves, President; Lynn Wright, Secretary-Treasurer; Eleanor Rice, Manager. The Vice President will be announced at the next meeting as there was a tie between the two nominees.

The girls who have earned letters in sports automatically become members of the Letter-Ettes Club. In the previous years the girls could only earn letters by playing volley ball. This year Table Tennis, Tennis Badminton, and Archery have been included. Hot chocolate and sandwiches were served after the Umatilla game to both teams and their cheer leaders by the Sophomore class.

Have you ever noticed the H. H. S. on the hill above the Rodeo Field? It has been a tradition for the Senior classes to bring this marker up-to-date with the current graduating year.

The Seniors are planning to do this at 2:00 this Sunday afternoon.

Committee members who were in charge of the October meeting of the Heppner P-TA were Mrs. John Bergstrom, Mrs. Carl Bergstrom, Mrs. C. H. Privett, Mrs. Tom Marlatt and Mrs. Elmer Palmer.

CELEBRATES "FIFTH" — Irene Beasley really has music in her ears as she celebrates the fifth anniversary of her daytime radio show, "Grand Slam." The musical game, in which Irene is Mistress of Ceremonies, is heard daily over CBS, at 11:30 A. M. EST.

Blue Birds Make Book For Hospital

The Heppner Blue Birds have been busy this fall making a scrap book for children who are patients at the Pioneer Memorial hospital. The book will also be available to adults. It includes pictures, stories, riddles, games and jokes which the Blue Birds feel will help make people happy. The girls helped to the hospital last week and presented the book to Mr. Ernsdorff. The presentation speech was made by Mary Slocum.

The girls have also learned some songs which they will be glad to sing to children at the hospital when requested.

The girls have made winter bouquets for their mothers from seed pods and dried weeds which they gathered on one of their recent hikes.

For Hallowe'en they have invited their mothers and teachers to a nursery rhyme party which each girl is to pantomime a nursery or fairy story.

Nearly all of the girls have all or a part of their uniforms, and as soon as they are all complete it is planned to have pictures taken of the group.

The girls who completed all their projects satisfactorily with in a given time last year were Mary Emma Evans, Sheryl Harris, Mary Slocum, Julia McGouth, Bernice Thomson, Mary Evelyn Tucker and Shirley Van Winkle.

These girls were presented with dolls dressed as a Blue Bird. The doll clothing was made by Madge Thomson, leader and Harriet Evans, assistant leader. A new chart has been started and eligible girls will receive awards next fall.

Mrs. Mabel Burkenbine has as a guest her cousin Mrs. Verda Reid of McMinnville. She arrived Thursday and will remain here until next week. They went to Baker on Saturday to spend the weekend with Mrs. Burkenbine's brother.

College Swine Judged Champs Of Stock Show

A near clean sweep of championships in the market swine division of the recent Pacific International Livestock exposition, North Portland, was made with hogs bred and exhibited by the Oregon State college experimental station.

Barrows from the college's experimental Berkshire herd took five of six championships offered losing only one light barrow top award, according to the animal husbandry department. Dr. J. E. Oldfield, head of the station swine experimental program, says entering animals in shows similar to Pacific International gives the college an opportunity to measure their results in comparison with top flight breeders.

He says goal of the research effort with swine is to assist Oregon producers, and college intention during the recent show was to exhibit a working type hog that was productive.

Major emphasis thus far in the experimental program has been devoted to gaining knowledge on supplemental efforts of various B vitamins including vitamin B-12, minerals and antibiotics on local Oregon feedstuffs.

Results indicate a considerable difference in response to feed produced locally and that from the midwest. From the nutritional standpoint, work has been directed toward reducing pig losses and toward keeping pigs gaining weight steadily after weaning.

The lone championship missed by the OSC market hog entries went to a Spotted Poland China.

Animals exhibited by the college were shown by Tom Johnson, swine herdsman, and the station was complimented on the quality of its show entries by Guy McReynolds, Lincoln, Neb., the exposition's swine judge.

In addition to Berkshires, the station is now starting work with Yorkshires.

Mrs. R. H. Zinter, her daughter, Irene, and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Zinter and son, Sidney Jean, were in Reno Nevada over the weekend to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Empey. They expect to go to Portland Saturday where Mr. Zinter will enter the Emanuel Hospital for major surgery on October 29.

William Lewis is a patient at St. Vincents Hospital in Portland following a major operation there early last week. Mrs. Lewis and her daughter, Mrs. Paul Doherty, are in the city with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Buffington of Portland were overnight guests Thursday at the home of Mrs. Buffington's brother, Joe Hughes. They went on to Boardman Friday for bird hunting.
