Health Consultant Speaks to Soroptimists

Miss Nora C. Lalor, hospital consultant to the Oregon State Board of Health, Portland, was a guest of the Soroptimist Club at its luncheon Thursday at O'Donnell's Cafe. Miss Lalor discussed certain phases of her work and used a film to illustrate her talk. Mrs. Maude Casswell furnished and operated the projection machine. Other guests were Mrs. Walter Berger, Mrs. Henry Rauch, Jr., Mrs. Dalbert E. Bailey and Miss Martha Tappanainen. The Soroptimist Club members are busily engaged at present in preparation of a Christmas box of food which will be sent to their sister club in Tamworth, England. Foodstuffs that are unavailable or scarce in England will be included in this box.

IOOF, Rebekahs Hold Joint Meeting

One of the most interesting meetings of the year was held on Wednesday at the Odd Fellows Hall when Willows Lodge No. 66 and Sans Souci Rebekah Lodge held a joint social affair in observance of "Oddfellows month" in accordance with the recent proclamation of the Grand Master, George M. Lyons, Portland. A program was presented which included three dance numbers by Mary Monigle and Francine Francis students of Mrs. Clarence Johnson; two solos, "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and "The Poor Finish" by Mrs. Lucy Peterson was accompanied by Mrs. Charles A. Ruggles; Rev. J. Palmer Sorjelin, past grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Oregon, was the guest speaker using as his topic "Oddfellowship." Following this, two movies were shown "The Tournament of Roses Parade and Football game for 1951" and "Nature's Trials—a tour of the Grand Canyon, Bruce Canyon and Zion National Parks." The program concluded with a quiz program conducted by Professor Clara Gertson and western music by Roy Quackenbush and Mrs. Eugenia Huston. Refreshments were served to sixty-five members and guests.

If peaches are a favorite in your household as they are in mine, you're always unhappy to see the fresh, pink-cheeked beauties go. Some of you undoubtedly canned some for winter use; if not, try frozen peaches. And "stretch" 'em by adding fresh orange sections. Truly delicious!

Looking for a rainy day project? Weed out those worn tablecloths and cut them up into place mats and napkins. With all-purpose dye, convert the mats and napkins into dazzling, sunny colors to brighten up your tables through the dark, dreary months.

Ripe olives are even more delicious when you drop a garlic clove in the container a day or two before serving.

Not long ago you wouldn't have been caught dead in a black dress and brown accessories. But now if you've a black dress or coat and a dark brown velvet hat and brown suede gloves, wear them. You're walking in high fashion!

Don't throw away the juice from your Bread and Butter Pickles. Save it to season sandwich fillings or salad dressings.

Food authorities tell us that frozen concentrated orange juice has been declared the nutritive equal of fresh orange juice. Loss of Vitamin C occurs with improper handling. For best flavor and nutrition, keep juice in covered container in refrigerator.
