Our last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ray Ayers. The meeting was called to order by our president, Joann Brosnan. Secretary, Janice Martain read the minutes of the last meeting. We have started on our first project. It is a needle case, Mrs. Caswell helped us with them. Our next project will be a head scarf.

There were three mothers present, Mrs. Chas. Monagle, Mrs. Marlon Brosnan and Mrs. Randall Mortain.

The meeting was adjourned by the president. We were served refreshments of cool-aid, cake and ice cream. We went sleigh riding and did the Hoka Polka.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Chas. Monagle. Reporter, Francine Francis.

Hep-Hi HI LITES

"Help relieve suffering and maybe save a life", one of the slogans to promote the Student Body project of sending clothing to Korea. Several posters and a large box for the donations have been placed in the hall and the deadline set for January 16th.

Until the end of the basketball season the first four rows of the left section downstairs in the auditorium will be reserved for the high school Student Body. The Pep Club will be in charge of enforcing this.

The Heppner Pep Band has been playing some ear catching melodies for the home games. Later on the drill team is planning to work out some novelty routines with the band for half-time entertainment.

The girls volley ball team has won two of the three games played this season, having lost to Ione by one point. The other two games were with Lexington High.

This week the sophomores have charge of decorating the main bulletin board for the two home games. Using the colors of Irrigon and Lexington they portrayed a scene from a game showing Heppner making a basket.

ON HONOR ROLL

Eastern Oregon college of education this week announced the names of 37 eastern Oregon students appearing on the honor roll at LaGrande. Included among the juniors majoring in teacher education was Katherine Bisbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bisbee of Heppner.

How To Figure Correct Spray Amount

If a weed spray recommendation calls for 10 gallons of material per acre, how do you know if you are applying the correct amount?

Chances are good you don't, says E. M. Nelson, Wasco county extension agent, and that may be the reason for poor results.

Here's Nelson's solution to the problem. Set the spray outfit's pressure regulator at the required pressure with all nozzles operating. Use clear water. Set the tractor throttle at the proper spraying speed and spray a measured 40 rods.

Measure the amount of water used and multiply this number in gallons by 66 and divide the figure by the number of feet in the spray swath. The result will be the gallons per acre applied at the particular throttle and pressure setting. For example, if the amount sprayed while traveling the 40 rods is 5 gallons, multiply 5 by 66 which will give 330. Then, if the spray swath is 27 feet, divide 330 by 27. Thus, the sprayer is applying 12.2 gallons per acre. Forty rods, incidentally, is 660 feet.

Mrs. Harold Staeger returned from St. Anthony's hospital the last of the week but must remain in a cast for some weeks. During the holidays, Mrs. Staeger and their children were enroute to Stanfield and were involved in an auto accident in which she received a broken back.

Mrs. Adelle Bailey made a business trip to Arlington Friday.

Over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Van Marter, Jr. were Sgts. Richard Snyder and Junior Burrell and George Coombs of Condon. Sgts. Snyder and Burrell are in the radio section of the Radar division of the U. S. Army and are leaving this week for over seas service.
