

Mrs. Kent Anderson and child ren left Saturday for Astoria where they will reside. She was taken to Hinkle by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Payne. The train was running a full four hours late on Saturday due to a derailment between LaGrande and Pendleton and the snow storm which piled up three feet of snow Saturday morning in the same area.

What makes Olympia so popular?

Light Olympia, like the beers of Munich and Burton-on-Trent, is famous for quality . . . and largely for the same reason . . . "It's the Water."

Premium quality hops, grains and yeast are used.

Final touch of perfection is the skillful brewing gained through three generations of brewing experience.

Striking Color Harmonies Grace New Bel Air

Smart, new styling and improved performance add further distinction to the 1952 Chevrolet Bel Air. In appearance, the latest models are marked by vivid two-tone color combinations and luxurious interiors that make use of fine fabrics and harmonizing leather trim. Increased comfort through new engine mounts and modified shock absorbers and more responsive operation through carburetor changes are advances incorporated in all new Chevrolets. Optional Powerglide will carry an automatic choke.

From The County Agent's Office

By N. C. Anderson

Three important meetings are in store for farmers next week, announces N. C. Anderson, County Agent.

The week starts out with the annual Union Pacific Agricultural Improvement Car spotted at the depot at Heppner. This year's program promises to be the best yet when problems common to all livestock growers will be discussed. Two up-to-date films "Cattle Country" and "Western Sheep" both with full color and sound will be shown for the first time in Morrow County.

The benefits of the "Grassman of the Year" program sponsored by the Portland Chamber of Commerce will be discussed by Walter Holt, manager of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition. Conservation Man of the Year, Glen Way and Cattleman of the Year, Raymond Ferguson will be featured as a part of the program.

George Penrose, Agricultural Agent, Union Pacific Railroad, will discuss the problem of livestock loss prevention, illustrating his points by using colored slides.

E. R. Jackman, Farm Crop Specialist, Oregon State College, will take up topics of grassland and range improvement in livestock management. Jackman is the Northwest's top authority on this subject.

All of the talks will be held in the U. P. car which is equipped with public address system and moving picture projector room.

Monday, January 21, is the day. The morning sessions starting at 9:30 will be of particular interest to 4-H Club and F. F. A. members, while the afternoon programs beginning at 1:30 will be directed to adult farmers.

On Tuesday, January 22, the Heppner Soil Conservation District and Lexington Blow Control Districts hold their annual meetings at the Lexington Grange Hall. The program for the day will be an educational and interesting one, with the films, "Snow Harvest" shown at 10:30. The Lexington Blow Control District will hold its annual business meeting during the morning.

Featured as speakers for the afternoon program are Bill Anderson, Range Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service who will speak on range improvement, while Leroy Warner, Pendleton Grain Growers will explain the service this cooperative will offer farmers in soil testing to determine fertilizer and moisture needs for successful farming.

The progress report for the district, election of officers and an educational film "Neighbors of the Land" will conclude the day's program.

The Lexington Grange Home Economics Club promise to keep everyone happy for the day by serving the noon luncheon.

On Thursday, January 24, the Boardman Soil Conservation District will hold their annual meeting. Starting things off will be a film "Water For A Nation" shown at 10:30 a. m. Noon luncheon will be served by the Irri-gon P. T. A. ladies. The meeting will be held this year at the Irri-gon school.

Speakers are Dick Adlard, Soil Conservation Nursery Agronomist, Pullman who will discuss work at that Nursery and Dr. Carl Larson, Supt. Umatilla Branch Experiment Station, Hermiston will tell of work being done in the area on pasture improvement, discussing treatment of alkali soils for high production.

With this choice of meetings, and the high-rating speakers to discuss problems of every day in interest to Morrow County farmers, everyone should spend a profitable week.

With the high price of ewes and a shortage in sheep numbers, the sheepman may consider saving ewe lambs for replacement. This is particularly true in the case of farm flock owners. The U. S. D. A. recently published a statement regarding the selection of replacement ewes for the flock. The points to consider in picking ewe lambs for this purpose are (1) lambs out of good fast gaining rams; (2) lambs with open faces; (3) lambs of heavy weaning weight and good mutton con-formation; (4) lambs with long stapled fleeces of good, uniform quality throughout the body; (5) twin ewe lambs from young mothers as they are likely to produce more twins than twins from the older mothers; (6) next high in twin production are singles from young mothers which excel single ewes from older mothers.

A meeting of importance to all livestock men was held last Thursday when the Morrow County Livestockgrowers Association executive and disease control committees met with Dr. A. G. Beagle, Dr. Walter Thistlewaite and Dr. G. W. Blake of the Bureau of Animal Industry. Dr. Beagle is Veterinarian in charge. The meeting was held with the representatives of the Bureau of Animal Industry and county judge to plan a program for cleaning up the remaining herds that have not tested for Bangs disease. The county court is responsible for enforcing Bangs testing law in force here.

Agreement was made for having another veterinarian come into the county at once, to help Dr. Blake who continues to test here. The veterinarian will be Dr. Frank of Condon who will concentrate his work in Western Morrow County.

The county will be divided into areas during the next few weeks, ready for a complete testing program during the last half of April and the month of May. Four veterinarians will be available to do this testing.

In the meantime, Bangs tests can be had at anytime. Contact this office for arrangements. Dr. Frank will be contacting all Eightmile and Gooseberry ranchers within the next few weeks.

Dr. Beagle complimented livestock growers in Morrow County for leading Oregon in Bangs control work in beef cattle. He expressed the desire of the Bureau of Animal Industry to cooperate fully in the program underway here.
