Wedding Held In Spokane

At a single ring ceremony Sunday afternoon January 13, at the Methodist Church in Spokane, Mrs. Alice Mahon became the bride of James McCabe of Ione. Rev. Ogletree read the service. For her wedding, Mrs. Mahon chose a wine colored wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. Her attendant, Mrs. Arthur Patterson, wore a suit of grey and black with black accessories. The bride's brother, Arthur Patterson, was best man. Following the ceremony, the party held a wedding dinner at the Sillman Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. McCabe returned to Heppner Friday following a week's wedding trip. They will make their home here. During their absence they visited in Adams with his father, A. A. McCabe and his sister, Mrs. Charles Ingalls.

NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING WASHINGTON D. C. By Ann Goode

One note of caution about that pretty lingerie you got for Christmas! Be very careful not to wash the white nylon with colored items. White nylon is terribly susceptible to color and will pick up the slightest amount of dye.

Need a new lamp shade? It's wise to see it lighted before you buy. Then you can check to see it's thick enough to prevent the shape of the bulb from showing through if the shade is colored. Be sure it has an opaque white lining so that the light isn't tinted by the color of the shade.

These simple flavor tricks are worth knowing about. Mix vitaminized margarine with chopped green olives and spread on broiled hamburger steaks. Divine! Top cooked green beans with a mixture of margarine and finely chopped onion. The whole family will love 'em! Sauté croquettes in margarine with a clove of garlic till lightly brown add to tossed green salads or soups for a gourmet touch.

Most everybody loves mashed potatoes but if you don't vary the flavor you're missing something special. For example add chopped onion or parsley or pumpkin or grated cheese, singly or in combination. For a completely different and delicious taste stir real mayonnaise, milk, grated lemon rind and salt in mashed potatoes and beat till light and fluffy.

Place citrus fruit in hot water a few minutes before peeling and marvel at how easily the outside and under skins will come off. It will be easier to separate into segments, too.
