Umatilla Takes 2 From Mustangs; To Meet Arlington and Wallowa

Heppner's Mustangs went down to a double defeat Friday and Tuesday at the hands of a tall Umatilla high school team who racked up 36-26 and 50-35 wins against the local boys.

The Mustang offensive bogged down when they were unable to hit from screen plays or running shots until they were shooting an anemic 203 for the games. Heppner's defense too, resembled a sieve and would have suffered even greater defeats except for the shooting of Gary Connor, the Mustang center. He gathered in more rebounds and outshot the entire Heppner squad.

The reserves fared better, running up their 15th and 16th consecutive wins by taking the Junior Norsemen 50-34 and 52-27.

Heppner returns to league basketball competition Friday when they play host to the second place Arlington Honkers on the Heppner floor. Arlington has shown considerable improvement recently, but the Mustangs hope to get back in the win column according to coach Hal Whitbeck.

Saturday, Heppner will play a fast, sharp-shooting Wallowa five at the local gym. The Mountain boys represented district 8 in the state basketball tournament last spring. Quite a number of regulars are still performing for the visitors including 6'4" Art Weatherford at center.

Two games will be played with the opener slated for 7 o'clock.

JOHN DEERE ROTARY HOES

Here's one of the most effective ways you can "rescue" thriving young crops—from strangling crust and thieving weeds. Cultivate your fields with a John Deere Rotary Hoe. It thoroughly mulches and aerates the soil next to the young plant; it kills many weeds which ordinarily aren't touched by shovel-type cultivators.

What's more, you'll handle this close-cultivating job in a hurry. This four-row hoe moves along at 5 mph., cultivating 14 feet at a time . . . up to 80 acres in a 10-hour day. This strong, sturdy, all-steel hoe can be used in units of 2, 4, or 6 gangs. Its simplicity, low cost, and efficient work make the John Deere an essential implement for your farming operation. Let us show you how it fits your farming needs; come in soon.
