

La Grande Democrat Files For Congress

John G. Jones, one of the best known and most widely acquainted civic leaders in Eastern Oregon, and manager of radio station KLBH, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in Oregon's 2nd Congressional district.

Jones has been continually active in public affairs during his fifteen years in Oregon, and during his five and one-half years in La Grande, he has served three years on the board of directors of both the chamber of commerce and the La Grande Rotary club and is past president of both organizations. He was the first president of the Northeast Oregon Development Association, and is past president of the Eastern Oregon College dads club. He serves Union county as an official in the Inland Empire Waterways Association and is a member of the Oregon Council of Churches. For three years he served as chairman of the Wallowa-Union County Selective Service Board.

Jones resigned a school superintendency in Nebraska in 1937 to come west to join the Bend high school faculty as an instructor and coach.

Accepting a position as commercial manager of radio station KBND, Bend, in 1941, Jones resigned in 1943 to become chief of the training and safety section in the civilian personnel branch at Camp Abbot, while in Bend he served in many capacities, including War Bond Drives, Red Cross and Civilian Defense committees, acted as chairman of the Fremont District Boy Scouts of America and as a member of the Modoc Area Council. Called to Portland in 1944 to serve as Assistant District Director of the Training Within the Industry, he was directly concerned with problems of personnel and production in war industries. During his stay in Portland, Jones enlisted in the Coast Guard Reserve, serving as a Petty Officer in the Port Security Force.

The United Nation Relief and Rehabilitation Administration selected Jones as a director in 1945, stationing him in Bavaria, where he had charge of nine Displaced Persons Camps. Following his service with UNRRA in Germany, he accepted his present position as manager of radio station, KLBH.

The candidate is 45 years old, married and has two married sons. One a senior at the University of Oregon, served in the Army of Occupation in Japan, the other son is now serving in the Armed Forces.

In stating his political beliefs, Jones said: "I believe America is more than ever before the land of opportunity for those with initiative and enterprise. I firmly believe in the two party system, but I think we should remember Washington's warning, that partisan politics could destroy our basic unity. This unity was best expressed in our bi-partisan foreign policy. To 'divide and conquer' is the method of the enemies of our democratic system."

Denise Darcel Named "Miss Welder of 1952"

FLUSHING, N.Y.—Denise Darcel, delightfully provocative MGM motion picture, stage and television star, was officially named "Miss Welder of 1952" by the National Eutectic Welders' Clubs at a press luncheon.

Miss Darcel was selected as "the girl we would like most to weld with" by the graduate body of professional welders representing nationwide industry and the armed services who attend the Eutectic Welding Institute to learn the most modern techniques and methods of metals joining with "Low Temperature Welding Alloys."

Miss Darcel's selection was the result of the Welders' heartfelt recognition of her "outstanding qualities of beauty, physical charm, poise, determination, endurance, meticulousness, emotional stability, ready wit and unselfishness" . . . all exemplary of the "girl we would most like to weld with" to insure maximum speed in production for defense.

Mr. R. D. Wasserman, president, presented a scroll to Miss Darcel, expressing the hope that her photograph would inspire women throughout the nation to join the ranks of the labor force so vitally needed for America's defense effort. The luncheon was held for the purpose of announcing and demonstrating to the press a phenomenal new product, Chamfer-Trode, "a welding rod in reverse." Chamfer-Trode is a cutting or gouging metal-removing electrode that virtually atomizes the metal removed, leaving the base metal relatively cold. Its use in industry, and particularly in defense production, will expedite most manufacturing and maintenance operations.
