Two Lynx Killed Near Monument

By Millie Wilson
 Mrs. Theo Owing had a very thrilling experience last week when she shot and killed a big Lynx cat near her home. Something had been robbing all her turkey nests and had killed four turkey hens, one duck and several chickens. Thinking it was the work of a coon she set a trap. When she looked at her trap next morning she was frightened to see the huge cat in the trap. She hurried home for the shot gun and to her surprise she killed it with the first blast, but fearing it might not be dead, she gave it the other barrel.

It was only caught by one toe. It was a light tan in color with lbs. and 13 ozs. C. E. Lieuallen of Pendleton and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jepsen of Ione are the grand parents. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hynds of Pendleton are the great grandparents.

In the next few days her neighbor Jim Wedgeworth spotted a Lynx cat on his way to work. He decided he would go Mrs. Owing one better. He set his dog on the cat which immediately climbed a tree. Jim knocked it out of the tree with a rock, then killed it with a club. It was a much smaller and younger cat than the one killed by Mrs. Owing.
