

Potato Digging On At Boardman

By Flossie Coats

Bob Miller and John Partlow are among the local spud growers who have begun digging and marketing the early potato crop. The spuds are running high in number one grade so far this spring, and a good yield, according to Mr. Partlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Williams (Viola Worden) are the parents of a baby daughter born Friday July 11th in the Riverside hospital in Pendleton. The little Miss has been named Glenda Grace. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Claud Worden, Boardman and Mr. and Mrs. Tex Williams of Wallowa, Oregon. Mrs. Williams and daughter came home Monday from the hospital.

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Hawley surprised their local friends by arriving and attending church Sunday morning, coming from Salmon, Idaho, where Rev. Hawley had been the pastor for the past one and one-half years, and being former pastor of the Community church here. The Hawleys have now retired and are going to spend the coming month in Grandview, Wash., at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hawley.

Rev. Archie McNeil, Cannon Beach, Oregon, was in Boardman and meeting with the congregation Tuesday evening after the Bible study.

Miss Georgia Harris, Mabel Green and Verna Seashore, members of the Christian Business Womens Council, Seattle were weekend guests of Miss Jean Scott.

Miss Jean Scott left Thursday for Cannon Beach, Oregon where she will attend the Cannon Beach Conference for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tex Taylor, Payette, Idaho are guests at the Chas. Graham home. Mrs. Taylor is Mrs. Grahams mother.

The Boardman Community church young people with Miss Jean Scott as the leader motored to Lehman Springs Wednesday for an outing and swimming party in the afternoon, having the devotional service in the evening.

The Boardman Garden club met Monday afternoon July 14 at the home of Mrs. Earl Briggs, with Mrs. Algy Taylor as co-hostess. The Gardeners voted on a project to place concrete markers at each grave in the cemetery that has no marker or stone.

Serve Snacks With Smart Informality

Whether for snacks or a light hot weather lunch, nothing is tastier and more refreshing on a scorching summer's day than rye bread sandwiches of liverwurst and cheese with crisp pickles, salty potato chips and tall thirst-quenching glasses of cold beer.

A make-your-own sandwich arrangement is completely in keeping with the easy informality of summertime living and simplifies the job of serving. Set up the food smartly with attractive accessories to add a party touch of glamour to the spread. Slice the cheese and liverwurst and arrange with the sliced bread on a wooden cutting board or tray. Fill up a basket with the potato chips and use gay pottery or china for the mustard, pickles and serving plates. Pour the beer into tall pilsener glasses—pouring to give each glass a deep cool-looking collar of creamy foam.

Set up the food in any convenient and cool spot—the kitchen, porch or in the yard under a tree and let each guest help himself and then settle down in comfort to eat and relax!

OSC Issues Bulletin On Soil and Water Use and Conservation

An analysis of Oregon's soil and water conservation and use has been made by a committee from the Oregon State college agricultural staff and findings and recommendations have been published in a 75-page bulletin which is available at county extension offices or by writing direct to the college.

The committee, headed by J. R. Beck, assistant director of the extension service, details its report under two broad phases: first, they discuss soil and water conservation during the past century of Oregon agricultural development; and, second, propose a soil and water conservation and

Mrs. Claud Coats and Mrs. Leo Root gave the report on the Oregon Federation of Garden Clubs conference that was held in Portland in June. Mrs. Leo Root, the newly installed president presided at the meeting.

Pfc. Chas. Graham, Jr., arrived two months ago in Yoko, Japan, according to word received by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Graham.

use program for Oregon.

In the latter, the state is divided into four districts—coastal, southern Oregon, Willamette valley and eastern Oregon.

Discussed are such items as sand dunes, stream bank erosion, drainage, soil surveys, fertilizer needs, rotations, farm forestry, alkali, cloud seeding, hill pastures, irrigation, and watershed cover.

The committee says man-caused erosion is present in each of the state's 36 counties. It is most noticeable, however, on non-irrigated eastern Oregon cropland, on hill croplands of western Oregon and on land disturbed by logging operations throughout the state. Known improve practices for minimizing erosion needs to be adapted to 1,800,000 acres, the committee believes.

for Spokane, Wash. Miss Shannon will remain for an indefinite stay with her grandmother, Mrs. E. Parsons.

Miss Frances Myers spent the weekend in Yakima with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Nate Macomber motored to College Place, Sunday and were dinner guests at the home of their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Pettey. Their grandson Gary Pettey returned home with the Macambers.

Weekend guests at the Emmett Rodgers home were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar V. Johnson and three daughters, Hood River, Oregon. Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Johnson are sisters. One daughter Miss Marva Ann Johnson remained with the Rogers for a week, leaving Monday July 21 by streamliner for South Carolina where she will be married to Sgt. Russell Erickson. Sgt. Erickson's home is in Blacklock, Oregon.

Potential irrigation of 700,000 additional acres in the state is largely dependent on three factors: storage, distribution, and efficient use of abundant water supplies.

Drainage, to permit sound cropping and maximum land use, is needed on 830,000 acres. The committee also points out that some present crop rotations are markedly deficient from the basic principle of sound soil management. Nearly all soil not in perennial grass, they say, would benefit from improved practices.

Use of nitrogen is expected to increase tenfold in the next 10 to 20 years and 180,000 tons of limestone are now needed each year. About 18,000,000 acres of publically owned grazing land passed its peak productivity about 1903.

Attention Farmers & Cattlemen

IN THE TRADE AREA of IDAHO, OREGON, UTAH, NEVADA

The Pioneer Service Company that represents the largest organization of business and professional men in the Northwest is calling your attention to a condition that is quite serious for the local merchants, doctors, hospitals, and druggists.

That is: paying your bills once every six months or once a year.

A. Do you realize that your grocer pays for his groceries once a week, or twice a month?

B. Do you realize that virtually all the merchants have to pay their bills every 30 days?

C. Do you realize that the gas and service stations (or a lot of them) pay every time that gas is dumped?

D. Do you realize that your doctor, your hospital, and your druggist, have to pay not only their wholesale bills but also their own personal bills every 30 days, and that when any of these merchants carries a customer over 30 days on his books his profit is gone, and he is losing money on his investment?

E. Do you realize what it costs to send statements? After the second statement is mailed out, it costs from 35c to 40c a statement. It is the handling charge on the money that really counts, not the paper, the stamp, and the time it takes to send it out.

So, why not quit taking advantage of your merchants and professional men, and cooperate with them by paying your bills sooner; and thus help the financial rating of your trade area as well?
