

Grant Union Drops Mustangs 19 to 0

Last Friday, Heppner High School's Mustangs traveled to John Day to meet the Grant Union Prospectors, coming out on the bad end of a 19-0 score. The game was actually much closer than the score indicated, with all scoring done in the 1st and 3rd quarters.

Accounting for the Mustang loss, Coach Steve Trukositz blamed the fact that the boys were up against a split-T formation for the first time of the season. It was also the first time Heppner had played under the lights this year. Heppner also was marred by many fumbles and penalties, having two touchdowns called back because of penalties.

In the first downs department, the Prospectors held a slight edge 15-11.

Grant Union started the ball rolling in the first quarter, when Jack Pocock carried the ball over from eight yards out. Soon afterwards, Dale Gilmore carried the ball over, to make the score 12-0 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Heppner's Wendell Connor scored a touchdown, but it was called back because of a penalty. In this same quarter, the Mustangs marched from the Grant Union 2 yard line to their own 8, only to have a pass intercepted as the half-time whistle blew. The score remained 12-0 at the half.

The Prospectors scored again in the 3rd quarter, with Buddy Brown scoring the TD this time. The extra point was made by Pocock to make the score 19-0 at the end of the 3rd quarter.

In the 4th quarter the Mustangs once again had a touchdown called back because of a penalty. This TD was made by Jack Sumner. When the final whistle blew, the score was Grant Union 19, Heppner 0.

To Tackle Moro

Next Friday the Mustangs play another game away from home, this time at Moro, when they meet the Moro Huskies in a league encounter. A probable starting lineup will be:

EARLY BALLOTING URGED, 82% OF ALL ELIGIBLE VOTERS ARE REGISTERED

Suggestions to eliminate congestion at the polls were advanced today in the wake of forecasts that a record avalanche of voters would descend on the voting booths of Oregon November 4.

The suggestions came from officials of Register & Vote, Incorporated, of Oregon whose most optimistic expectations were topped by the general election registration total of 851,581. The goal announced by the committee last spring for its 1952 registration drive was 820,000 registrants.

"This has been the result of hard work by the scores of public-minded organizations making up the committee, plus unprecedented interest in the presidential race", two Register & Vote officials commented. In their joint statement, State Chairman, Lawson McCall and Secretary Estes Snedecor, Jr., both of Portland, thanked "the hundreds who spearheaded this dramatic demonstration of interest in our most cherished right as free Americans."

At the same time, McCall and Snedecor called for "spreading out the vote, so there will be as little waiting in line as possible". They recommended that "early birds" vote between 8 a. m. and 10 a. m., housewives and others in the home from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. and persons on regular daily work schedules from 4 p. m. to 8 p. m.

In addition, they urged employers to arrange "time-off" schedules to make it easier for their employees to vote. Many firms are keeping percentage records, they said, and are requiring each department head to account for the personnel he supervises.

This year's unprecedented total of 851,581 represents an increase of 156,946 registrants over Oregon's previous presidential election record, established in 1948. Added to the rolls between the primary last May and the close of registration October 4 were 73,636 voters.

The Register & Vote officials said the last tabulation represents 82 percent of the estimated eligible voters in Oregon. The ratio compared favorably with the 68 percent registration figures of 1950, which has been the modern-day record in the state.

David O'Hara of Salem, chief of the state elections division, predicted last week that three out of every four persons registered would get out and vote. That would mean a turnout of nearly 640,000 voters.
