Christmas Calls For Goodies

Christmastime calls for plenty of cookies—just plain good eating cookies and some that are special in looks as well as in taste.

Here's a tasty eating cookie recipe and some ideas for Christmas decoration. Nonfat dry milk is an added feature of this recipe and besides the important milk nutrients it contributes flavor and texture to these cookies. It is extremely reasonable for a one-pound package available at the grocer's will yield five quarts of nonfat milk for as little as nine cents a quart.

Simply add nonfat dry milk right from the package to other dry ingredients in these Christmas cookies:

Christmas Cookies
(Makes 2 1/2 to 3 dozen medium-size cookies)

1 cup sifted flour
3/4 cup Starlac nonfat dry milk
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
3/4 teaspoon vanilla extract

Sift together flour, Starlac nonfat dry milk powder, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening; gradually add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Stir in vanilla. Blend flour mixture into creamed mixture. Wrap cookie dough in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator at least 1/2 hour. Roll out on floured board to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut into various Christmas shapes with floured cookie cutter. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in a moderate oven (375° F.) until lightly browned, about 5 to 7 minutes. Remove from sheet at once. Cool.

Decorations for Christmas Cookies: Mix 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar with about 2 tablespoons of liquefied Starlac nonfat dry milk (make liquid Starlac nonfat milk according to package directions). Tint to desired shade with certified food coloring. Spread or press through pastry tube onto cookies in desired patterns.

Tinted Sugar: Put a few drops of certified food coloring into 1/4 to 1/2 cup granulated sugar and toss quickly with a spoon to distribute color without dissolving sugar. Sprinkle on cookies before baking.

Variation: Chopped nuts, cut-up dried fruits, vari-colored candy sprinkles or chocolate bits or sprinkles may be placed on cookies before baking.

er, Harold Peck, gave us our record books for the coming year. Only one member was absent.

We decided to have a Christmas party at our next meeting which will be held December 14 at Judy Thompson's. All the members drew names for Christmas presents.

We also saw a movie taken at last year's 4-H Congress called "Share the Fun Breakfast". Mrs. Anderson had good refreshments ready for us after the movie.

"I have a chance to buy an insurance policy from an out-of-town company representative. He says he thinks he can save me a little money." Mr. Foreman said as we were discussing his requirements recently.

"Naturally we are all interested in saving money," I replied, "especially if the product or service we are buying is identical with another. But are you sure it is?"

"No," Mr. Foreman replied, "what should I look for?"

"First of all, can the other company give as good service? If you want to change your policy, increase it, or find out any information about it, a local agent is as handy as your telephone."

"More important," I continued, "in the event of loss (and that, after all, is why you buy insurance) we are right here in town to help in any way we can. If you are not satisfied with the proposed settlement, you have a friend locally who will help you get a fair adjustment."

"That's a good point," Mr. Foreman said, "a small savings would be unimportant compared to quick and fair treatment in event of loss."

Really, we are proud of our prompt attention to claims. Place your insurance with us for PERSONAL SERVICE.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

The class voted for new officers the other day. We chose Connie Anderson for president; Mickey Van Schoelack, vice president; Jeanne Collins, secretary; and Sharon La Velle for treasurer. We all thought we chose good officers.

Our last president, Carol Anderson was one of the delegates for the election rally. We think she gave a good speech. Connie Anderson was the registrar.

We had 30 hard history questions. Tom Driscoll was the only one who got 100%, but five others made 94%.

We watch our graphs in Arithmetic and Spelling to see if we are improving. We are, too.

It is fun to hear our voices on the tape-recorder. We read a play about Daniel Boone. We decided to study it again and read it better next time.

Downstairs, our teacher runs the movie projector for us. On some of the movies, Miss Glavey had us write stories.

We had questions too, about the moon, Brazil and Alaska.

In our Science, we looked through the microscope. We saw the wings of a dragon-fly; a piece of fern and some bacteria.

We studied about ballots and we voted 24 for Ike and 4 for Adlai. So I guess that our room thought the same as our United States.

We started square dances. We like to swing and we know six dances.

Some of us have sung solos in music—Vickie Barger, Jeanne Collins, James Sowards and Judy Coehell have sung for us. We are learning to sing songs in two parts.

This week is National Education Week. If you come to visit us we will show you some of our work.

Fourth Grade News

For Our Science we have charts of Fish, Birds, Mammals, Insects, Reptiles and Amphibians. We also have a Science shelf on which we have some very interesting things. There are Casey's mouse, Charles snake which has just shed its skin, spiders of all kinds, and some lizards with very unusual blue tails brought by Lee and Dennis D. We had a frog brought by Sandra and some coconuts from Dennis D. and Casey. Jerry brought his collection of arrowheads and Omer brought some beautiful peacock feathers. David brought two pigeons named Coo-Coo and Chirpy.

The children in our room who are taking band are Rogena, Dennis C, Barbara and Casey. Sheryl Harris

First and Second Grades

Friday's art period was devoted to the making of Thanksgiving pictures and the construction of fruit baskets or bowls. It was plain to be seen that the story of the Pilgrims rough voyage across the ocean in the sailing vessel was what appealed to the boys, for several ships in full sail are on the wall along with the turkeys and Pilgrims pictures. Mike Williams's picture drawn free hand stirred the others into action, and the results are very good.

Visitors in our room this week were Mrs. Chas. Monagle and Mrs. Roice Fulleton and daughter Ruby Ann.

Richard Springer and Sherley Case have both been out of school all week as a result of tonsillitis operations. Clifford Morris has been home since Tuesday with a throat infection. Absence due to slight illness were Linda McNabb, Kay Duran, Le Roy Gardner and Chris Burkenbine.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neal of Coos Bay left Monday for home after a few days visit with their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Robert Penland and Neal.
