

Monument Scene Jewell-Shelly Wedding Sunday

Monuments Gymnasium was once again the scene of one of the prettiest weddings of the year, when Jessie Rae Shelly became the bride of Joyce Jewell, on Sunday, December 14, at two o'clock.

Rev. Paul Kimmell Jr. officiated with the single ring ceremony. Mrs. Janice Cork was pianist and Mrs. Darlene Boyer sang two songs, "At Dawning" and "With This Ring, I Thee Wed". The bride was lovely in lace and white satin, her veil was held in place by an Angel face cap. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds. Her attendants were: maid of honor, Isobel Leathers, who wore a salmon pink satin formal and carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with light blue ribbon streamers. Bridesmaids were Rhoeue Bleakman and Donna Porter. Rhoeue wore a green taffeta formal and carried a pink carnation bouquet tied with yellow ribbon streamers. Donna wore a yellow net formal and carried a bouquet of red carnations with green ribbon streamers. The brides flower girl was little Ruth Ann Capon, who wore a blue net formal and carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with white ribbons. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Jim Shelly.

The bride's mother wore blue satin and a corsage of red rosebuds.

The groom asked Mrs. Mary Wright of Heppner to be seated in place of his mother, who lives in Missouri and could not attend the wedding. Mrs. Wright wore navy blue with a red carnation corsage. Yvonne Stubblefield presided over the guest book. She wore a green net formal with a red carnation corsage. The groom's only attendant was his best man, Gus Strecker. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the Grange hall. After the bride and groom cut the first piece of cake from the large three tiered cake decorated with a doll bride and groom; Lydia Capon assisted by Louella Neal cut and served the cake, while Clara Strecker poured coffee and Lois Hill and Linnie Gilman poured punch. The punch was made by Linnie Gilman. The tables were decorated with hand made lace table cloths and candles.

The happy couple were followed as far as John Day by a group of friends. They all had dinner together before the newlyweds left for the home of the groom's parents in Koshkonong, Missouri. They will spend the holidays there before returning to Monument where they will make their home.

Lex Garden Club Meets At Healy Home

Grange Members Hold Christmas Parties

The Rhea creek grange and the grange H. E. C. both held their Christmas parties during the past week, the Grange party being held Sunday evening and the PEC party at the home of Tacie Parker on Thursday.

At the Grange program an exchange of gifts concluded the evening with a Santa Claus bringing treats for everyone. At the H. E. C. party the hostess, assisted by Hannah Anderson and Ruth Bergstrom served a turkey dinner at noon to 22 members. Following the dinner a business meeting was held and secret pal gifts were presented to the members.

Carnation Club Has Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party of the Carnation Club was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Theta Stratton on S. Chase street with Mrs. William Cunningham and Mrs. James McCabe as assistant hostesses. Names of Honor Pals were revealed and a gift exchange between members. Those having birthdays during the months of October, November and December were presented a gift by the club. A bathroom fixture was presented to Mrs. Stratton as a housewarming gift with Mrs. Rufus Piper making the presentation.

The club plans to decorate miniature Christmas trees for the Nursing Home ward of Pioneer Memorial hospital and shut-in members in town. The committee in charge of this project includes Mrs. Stratton, Mrs. Carl King and Mrs. Jesse C. Payne.

High Awards to Oregon 4-H Club Youth

TOP RATING honors in Oregon were awarded six teen-agers for high ratings in the 1952 National 4-H Dairy Foods and Bread Demonstration programs. Highlights of their records indicate they were active all-round 4-H'ers.

Shirley Page Betty Sue Nelson Louise Bates Joan Karns

Tops in Dairy Foods Demonstrations in Oregon were Shirley Page, 18, of Salem, and the team of Betty Sue Nelson, 16, and Louise Bates, 16, of Corvallis. Appreciating the importance of milk for good health, they have utilized many new and palatable ways of varying the diet by the use of dairy products. Their demonstrations have been given before 936 people. Shirley gave the best individual demonstration on dairy foods in the state this year, presenting a "Five-Star Casserole," made of bread, cheese, milk, salt, mustard and butter. Betty Sue and Louise's prize-winning demonstration, "Cheese Fondue" made with powdered milk, was nutritious, economical and convenient. Chosen state winners, each girl was presented with a 17-jewel wrist watch by the Carnation Company. In carrying out the objectives of this program, the teen-agers learned how to speak well in public, developed poise, good sportsmanship and teamwork. They have likewise performed a genuine service to their communities.

Three pert young homemakers are mighty proud to be collecting top state awards—a $50 U. S. Savings Bond to each—in the 4-H Bread Demonstration program. Joan Karns, 17, of Orenco, demonstrated "Rolls are Easy," explaining the different kinds of flour that may be used, and the nutritional value of each ingredient. Joan showed how to make several kinds of rolls from the same dough. Her demonstration was given before 500 people.

The team of Janet Babcock, 15, and Donna Rohrer, 16, both of Hillsboro, gave as their prize-winning demonstration, "The Art of Bread Baking," in which they gave the steps in mixing, temperature of milk, kinds of gluten and its importance in bread making and how to test dough. Standard Brands provided the Savings Bonds awarded to these young people for their outstanding work.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.
