WA CAN TE KA CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Last week five Camp Fire Girls returned from a two week session at Camp Namanu. These girls are Sharon LaVelle, Judy Cochell, Nancy Harshman, Jeanne Collins and Carol Anderson.

We all feel that we have learned many interesting things to tell our group members who did not attend camp this year.

Camp Namanu is made up of six units for girls and the Klwanis unit for counselors and C. I. T's

Our group was in Robin Hill unit, the first unit organized in 1925. It is for 11 and 12 year old girls. There are nine cabins in Robin Hill unit. The Hepner girls were in the cabins Aquila and Altair.

Our day started with bugle call at 7:15 A. M., at 7:45 we had breakfast in Raker Lodge, which accommodates more than 300 girls. After camp capers we went to morning sing held in Uncle Toby's Soryhouse. This was named for Theodore A. Harper. Camp Nmanu's Uncle Toby.

While we were there, some important people in Camp Fire, came to camp and dedicated to Uncle Toby a stone bench and bird bath placed in the Garden of Eden which is a small clearing behind Raker lodge.

We went horseback riding and did some handiwork, painting and clay modeling. We held taftty pulls, played games and learned camp lore. We had an overnight hike 5 1/2 miles around the Sandy.

On a treasure hunt we learned to follow trail markings. After rest hour we went boating. There were swimming periods in morning and afternoon.

We had evening fire, singing and stories, before retiring at 9:30.

Namanu is the Indian name for beaver. Camp is located near Portland on the slopes of Mt. Hood. It includes more than 300 acres and 65 buildings. This summer there were 2,000 girls, 188 of them during the last week of our session.

Camp Namanu is the place to find friends and fun and we hope more of us can attend next year.

The Elks lodge furnished transportation both ways for us and we thank them.
