RALPH says

"JOHN DEERE IS THE DRILL FOR ME."

Ralph Crum, farming near Ione, has five John Deere-Van Brunt Model LL drills in one string, and five Model LZ drills in a second string. Ralph says, "When the soil is in shape to seed, I can depend on John Deere Drills." Some reasons are:

1. They feed more accurately, by use of their adjustable-gate fluted force feed. No seed damage. No seed leakage. Easy feeder to clean.
2. Available in many models and sizes to fit the particular needs of any soil in any climate.
3. Hydraulic control available, to make the job easier.
4. Row spacing may be changed by a simple twist of the wrist.
5. Many types of furrow openers available for ANY field condition.
6. Easily attached Fertilizer attachment.
7. May be ganged together easily -- three, four, or even five or six may be hooked together to get the job really done in a hurry.

Put these all together, and they spell JOHN DEERE.
