A hearty casserole of barbecued California dry limas, topped with scored frankfurters, makes one of the best-tasting dishes you've ever eaten. Simmer the soaked limas for 30 minutes while you prepare the savory barbecue sauce, then bake the beans and sauce together about 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Add frankfurters to the casserole the last half hour of baking.

Barbecued Beans 'n' Franks
1 1/2 cups California large dry limas
1 diced medium-sized onion
1 minced clove garlic
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
1/4 cup brown sugar (packed)
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 tablespoons catsup
6 to 8 frankfurters

Soak lima beans in 3 cups water 5 to 6 hours or overnight. Bring to boil then turn heat low and simmer about 30 minutes, adding additional hot water if necessary. Fry onion and garlic in olive oil until golden in color. Stir in tomato sauce, brown sugar, lemon juice, mustard, salt, Worcestershire sauce and catsup. Heat to boiling. Place drained beans in baking dish, pour hot sauce over them. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 1/2 hours, adding hot bean liquid if needed. Score frankfurters and press lightly into top of sauce, spooning some of sauce over them. Bake 30 minutes longer. Serves 5 to 6.

Oregon Rural Women Present Resolutions At World-Wide Meet

Resolutions on illiteracy and concept of peace, originated by Oregon's rural women, were adopted by the Associated Country Women of the World at its recently ended triennial conference in Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. E. E. Kilpatrick of Merrill, president of the Oregon home economics extension council, presented the peace resolution. It advocated "that freedom from want, freedom of thought, freedom of expression and freedom of conscience for all individuals be accepted as the fundamental concept of peace by the ACWW." Representing this area were Mrs. E. M. Baker of Ione and Mrs. Norman Nelson of Lexington.

Mrs. Edgar Leming of Cornelius, past president of the Oregon group and chairman of the national home demonstration council resolutions committee, introduced the illiteracy resolution, asking education of young rural women.

It read: "Recognizing that two-thirds of the people of the world are rural, that half of the people of the world are illiterate, that illiteracy is a barrier to balancing food and people, and that educating a women tends to educate a family, ACWW urges UNESCO to give increased consideration to the basic and fundamental education of young women and girls in the underdeveloped areas."

A third resolution that originated in Oregon, asking adoption of an official ACWW seal, was conditionally accepted and referred to the 85 constituent societies in 27 countries. It was presented as a resolution from the national home demonstration council, one of the member societies.

The insignia would be a green and white embossed seal with the words "Friendship, Tolerance, Understanding" on its face.

Three of Oregon's representatives have gone from Toronto to Boston for the national home demonstration council meeting, which closes September 3. They are Mrs. Kilpatrick, western director of the national council, Mrs. L. C. McClintock of Pendleton and Mrs. Jack Sacrisson of Pilot Rock.
