

Mustangs--Pilot Rock Play To 6-6 Tie

Heppner Underdog For Lone Game Friday Afternoon

The Heppner Mustangs, traveling to Pilot Rock last Friday for their opening game, wound up the afternoon's tussle in a 6 to 6 tie with the Rockets.

The Mustangs were badly undermanned in their first game, being short the services of Dick Koronen, Russell Taylor, Lance Tibbles and Edgar Olson. They also felt the loss of Ralph Marfat, who could only play half the game.

The Heppner squad looked pretty ragged during the first half but began to find themselves during the second to come from behind to punch over a score. They couldn't get the extra point though, to give them the winning margin.

The Rockets only tally was made by Stanton after a series of reverse handoffs and power plays. Their kick for the extra point was blocked. They kept up a blistering pace all through the first half, but couldn't collect another score. During the third period the ball was kept between the 30 yard lines but in the final quarter the Mustangs began to roll with Bill Hughes smashing over tackle for the touchdown. The try for point failed leaving the game a tie. The Heppner eleven went to work again, but time ran out on them.

Play Lone Friday.
Heppner travels to Lone for the second game of the season this Friday, and will still be short on manpower as they will feel the loss of Taylor, who has been down with the flu, John Brosnan, who is lost for the season with a chronic back ailment and Edgar Olson who is still laid up with an injured arm.

Ione, who will go into the contest the favorite, lost only two men by graduation from last year's squad so Heppner coach, Steve Trukositz has warned the Mustangs that they will have to play heads-up ball if they are to make it any kind of a contest.

Game time will be 2 o'clock at the Ione field.

Unsulphured Molasses Scores At Baked Bean Party Supper

For party-happy appetites, treat your guests to old-fashioned baked beans fragrant with sweet unsulphured molasses. The meat topping may be canned luncheon meat or frankfurters. Buns, cheese-broiled, and cabbage slaw complete the hearty fare.

By using dried beans, you will find this a very economical main dish. Though baking time is about five hours, the beans require little watching once in the oven. The unsulphured molasses is the sweet kind that Colonial women spooned over baked beans for traditional Saturday night dinners in New England. For a quickie casserole, canned beans may be used with unsulphured molasses added for step-up in flavor.

Old Fashioned Baked Beans

- 4 cups (2 pounds) pea beans
- 2 medium onions, sliced
- 4 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 1 cup unsulphured molasses
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
- 2 teaspoons dry mustard
- 2 cans luncheon meat

Wash beans. Cover generously with cold water; soak overnight. Add onions, salt and if necessary additional water to cover beans; bring to boiling point in covered saucepan. Simmer 1 hour. Drain and save 3 cups bean liquid, add water to make 3 cups if necessary. Mix bean liquid with catsup, unsulphured molasses, vinegar, Tabasco and dry mustard. Place beans in roasting pan; add liquid. Cover. If roasting pan does not have cover use baking sheet. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) 4 hours. Add boiling water when necessary during baking. Slice luncheon meat, add to beans. Bake 1 hour longer.

YIELD: 12 servings.
