From The County Agent's Office

By N. C. Anderson

The majority of office calls this week were concerned with grasshopper infestations in Morrow County which seems to be quite general. The first report of any infestation here was reported from Ordinance on June 25. Grasshoppers there were infesting alfalfa and row crops of several of the farmers that were growing these crops in the desert for the first time this year under sprinkle irrigation. A survey by the bureau of entomology shows that infestations were limited to private land at that time. Since then general infestations were found throughout the entire county. Most notable damage is occurring in small alfalfa fields which are located adjacent to range land or idle land where grasshoppers have hatched. Many towns people are being plagued by them in gardens and ornamentals.

On a commercial scale with any large acreage to treat, Aldrin is being used. This is a relatively new chemical which is well suited to grasshopper control and is being used by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in all of their control work. It is used at the rate of 2 ounces per acre. Though quite expensive, a little goes a long way. Where a small infestation is for the back yard gardener, chlordane is the best grasshopper control insecticide. It can be bought in various forms from dust to wettable powder. It should be applied according to the instructions on the container.

This week, W. W. Weatherford, rancher near Lena, is spraying about 30 acres of alfalfa with Aldrin for grasshopper control. Jack Hynd is spraying small infestations at the Luckman ranch using a wettable Chlordane material. He mixed it with 5 pounds of 40% wettable to 200 gallons of water.

Visiting with Jack Hynds last week, we found that he is spraying his goatweed infestations at the Luckman ranch in an attempt to get rid of it. Jack says that he does not like to have his range infested with goatweed such as is the case over cabbage hill in Umatilla County. There are several neighbors of his that have infestations that he thinks would be to their advantage to control before they spread further. On Monday of this week, he had the county weed sprayer spray all of his goatweed patches at the Luckman ranch. This is the second spraying this season. On June 8, nine colonies of Goatweed Beetles were released in that area with the hopes that they would keep this weed under control, at least until other practices were used for its control. A recent report from Umatilla County indicates that Emil Muller, Helix rancher who has a cattle ranch on Cabbage Hill has had very successful results with goatweed beetles in that weed on that ranch. He reports that the weed has been effectively controlled by the beetles. We hope that the beetles that have been released in Morrow County will do as good a job. In the meantime, it might be well to employ methods that will keep the weed from spreading further. 24-D will do a good job.

This is National Farm Safety Week. Fires cause many deaths and injuries in Oregon. Concentration then on fire safety then would be one of the points that

What is A GOOD MOVIE?

Some of our best friends and severest critics ask us repeatedly, "Why aren't more good movies made?" Suppose we begin by answering with a question: "What is a good movie?" There are a truckload of definitions but we'll say that fundamentally a good movie is any movie YOU like. And vice versa! Some of the moviegoers are esthetes first and moviegoers second. Most of the movie-going millions, however, share a mass taste—in laughter and tears.

Yet even this mass taste varies widely. Using any standards, the poorest movie ever made was enjoyed by about a hundred thousand people. And the best movie ever made was disliked by an equal number.

As you are aware, popular taste is a singular thing. To see individual taste at work, listen to the comments of people coming out of the theater. There's your real test.

Mostly, the people in the lobby like what they've seen. If they didn't, motion pictures wouldn't have millions of customers after 50 years. And these are the people the motion picture industry aims to please. We can think of no other business that tries anything like this—that offers its one product to both sexes, to the business executive and bobby soxer, to the highbrow and average joe.

The really astonishing point is that with a target as broad as broad as all humanity, more movies are applauded than disliked. Our average is darn good! No kidding—there are lots of good movies. Ask the people who see 'em.
