Cattle, Hog Price Picture Dimmed By Large Supplies

Large National supplies of cattle and hogs brought a warning this week from Oregon State College economists for Oregon livestock producers to figure closely for the coming fall and winter.

A large pig crop is now pointing to 10 percent more pork this fall than a year ago. Prospects for a one-third drop in hog prices by October will discourage farmers from holding fat hogs as long as last year. The economists believe hog raisers are almost certain to be producing for a falling market for the next two or three years.

"Don't be in too big a hurry to buy feeder cattle," caution the economists. They explain that feeder prices may not hold in the face of larger pork supplies and record numbers of cattle and calves. Movement of stockers and feeders into Corn Belt states during the first half of this year was nearly 40 percent greater than a year earlier. It looks like a good year for cow-calf operators to turn cull cows and common feeders early—even though pasture and range are good.

The economists offer these tips to cattle feeders: 1. Save on feed costs by buying needed hay and grain at harvest time. 2. Figure fat cattle prices a

Cattle Demand Holding Strong

HERMISTON—Fred Hoskins Jr. topped the market at the Hermiston livestock auction with a 490 lb. heavy calf selling for $19.20 cwt., Delbert Anson, manager of the sale, reports. J. Wightman of Heppner consigned 7 lambs weighing 760 lbs. that sold for a top of $17.20.

Demand was surprisingly strong for all types of cattle. This was apparently due to area packers being in short supply to meet the strong harvest-season consumer demand for meat. Prices were generally steady to slightly higher.

Volume of cattle was up slightly, 251 compared with 237 the previous Friday. Also consigned were 145 hogs, compared with 112 and 77 sheep, compared with 13. Some new Washington packers, in addition to regular Oregon and Washington packers, Washington feeders and a few farmer buyers contributed to the strong demand.

Consignments were again of odd lots but of better quality than the previous week. A bigger consignment of hogs brought higher prices, fat hogs up $1.30 to $24.30 and sows of better quality and size up $3.05 to $19.30, increases in line with other markets and due in part to higher quality. A few short fed steers, the first in some time, brought $22.00 cwt. Veal was up $1.75 to a top of $19.50, heifer calves up $1.20 to $18.20. Feeder steers stayed in a narrow range, $18.25-$19.75, up 15c.

In continued demand at the next sale Friday will be top grade fat steers and heifers, top veal for packers, and more fat and feeder lambs.

Calves: Baby calves 11.00-21.00 hd.; weaner calves, steer calves 16.75-19.50 cwt., heifer calves 15.10-18.20; veal 17.75-19.50. Steers: Stocker steers 16.75-18.10; feeder steers 18.25-19.75; fat slaughter steers 19.75-22.00; fat heifers 16.10-18.00. Cows: Dairy cows 90.00-125.00 hd.; dairy heifers 24.00-36.00 hd.; stock cows 115.00-122.50 pr. Slaughter cows: Commercial 12.25-13.75 cwt.; utility 10.75-11.10.

Little lower than those of the past season as a basis for bidding on feeders.

3 Short-feeding could be safer than long-feeding this year, so use good feeders in good condition. Later in the season, common feeders in poor condition could do best if prices spread as they did last year.

The situation is analyzed in the current issue of "Oregon Agricultural Situation and Outlook" circular now available from county extension offices.

80; canner cutter 8.00-9.75; shells 5.50-6.75. Bulls: 14.75-15.20. Hogs: Weaner pigs 12.50-17.00 hd.; feeder pigs 21.25-23.75 cwt.; fat hogs, 22.50-24.30; sows 16.25-19.30; no boars. Sheep: Feeder lambs 12.75-14.30; fat lambs 16.25-17.20; ewes 2.25-7.35; bucks 8.00 hd.
