Lexington School News

Football: Lexington's Jackrabbits chalked up a 48-34 victory over Irrigon in the second game of the season Friday, September 24. This marked the second win for the squad; they defeated Umapine 26-19 on September 20.

Freshman Initiation: Friday, September 24 saw strange goings on in the high school, with the six freshman class members sporting everything from long underwear to bathing suits topped off by garlic necklaces. This was the day of the annual freshman initiation. The neophytes were made to entertain during the half at Friday's football game. A party held in the high school gym that evening ended the festivities. Members of the freshman class include four girls and two boys, Nancy Wright, Inez McFadden, Joan Patrick, and Pat Steagall; Hugo Leyva and Dexter Miles.

Candy Sales: Candy sales sponsored as a money-making project by the freshman class are to be held during the noon hour three times a week. As soon as the class treasury is stocked, the class plans a party for the rest of the high school.

Travel: Lexington high school students who traveled to Portland for the Oregon-Stanford game were Keith Gray and Duke Hunt. Nancy Wright and her family took advantage of the summer weather of last weekend to go water skiing on the Columbia. Pat Steagall and Maureen Groves participated in the Heppner Hey-Day last Sunday. Pat entered the horse show and the clover leaf, and Maureen was in the pole bending race.
