Underwater ear spots telephone cables fast. Using a special underwater detector, telephone trouble shooters can quickly find cables lying on the bottom of bays and rivers of the Pacific West—even cables buried deep in silt. This means cables can be raised, when necessary, in much less time than if we had to grapple for "blindly" or a diver had to wander about looking for them. And, of course, time is also money saved. Thus, the "ear" is helping us bring you good service at low cost. Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.
