Standard's heating oil "life line" keeps winter warmth flowing to Pacific Northwest homes

To supply ample heating oil at all times for the people we serve, Standard has stretched a broad network of storage and transportation facilities across the Pacific Northwest. We built a pipe line from Salt Lake City through Idaho, Oregon, into Eastern Washington... constructed giant tanks on our "farm" near Puget Sound... maintain stocks at our bulk plants. Together with efficient truck, rail, tanker service they make an ever-dependable reservoir of cold-weather protection... to make sure your family will always be comfortable.

... and we're constantly finding ways to improve your car's performance. We built the world's first gas station in 1907 at Seattle. Today, in Standard's "Detergent-Action" gasolines you get the world's first fuels that clean out carburetor deposits (major cause of engine trouble)... end rough idling, stalling. They boost gas mileage and they're winter-blended for quick starts, fast warm-up too. They're yours exclusively at Standard Stations or independent Chevron Stations.

Working with you in Washington, Oregon and Idaho

- 2,923 Standard employees
- $14,096,835 annual payroll
- 4,810 Pacific Northwest shareholders
- $81,620,424 investment in plant, refinery and distribution facilities
- $5,000,000 worth of goods and services bought from more than 1,100 Pacific Northwest businesses in 1953
- 2,604 independent businessmen who support themselves and their 7,081 employees by selling Standard products
