WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Some readers ask meaning of current wrangles in Washington.

Unfortunately, big metropolitan headlines give impression words of Sen. Wm. Knowland, (R. Calif.) various McCarthy hearings, other great Constitution Avenue carnivals are based on personal political feuds and enmities. Tragically, this results in many people feeling they should be either pro- or anti-somebody.

Situation can probably best be explained as the 20th century Indian revolt. For over 22 years American people have been asked, as Indians a century ago, to leave everything to Great White Father in Washington.

It is significant in recent national poll of National Federation of Independent Business members voted 72% to require both House and Senate to approve treaties and agreements.

From this a sensation seeking headline writer could conclude majority of small businessmen are anti-administration.

But analysis establishes vote is not against any particular personality, but against the entire Great White Father idea. This revolt, started in second Roosevelt term was dropped due to war emergencies, revived in second Truman term, was supposedly won in 1952 election.

While much is made of apparent mistakes of Yalta, other conferences, many feel Congress made the big mistake by abdicating its power to permit small groups to wield such authority.

C. W. Harder

But early in this administration Sen. Bricker's (R., Ohio) amendment to make sure Congress would pass on all foreign agreements was defeated by administration pressure. In last session, doughty Rep. Daniel Reed (R., N. Y.) led successful fight to limit tariff busting powers of reciprocal trade treaty law.

The Great White Father idea has always been repugnant to Americans nurtured in New England town hall tradition of free and open discussion of all issues. The Great White Father myth even wore thin with Indians as evidenced by activities of Geronimo and feathered chieftains who gathered one tragic day on the Little Big Horn.

Rightly or wrongly, average American clings to belief he and his neighbors can thresh out solutions to problems far superior to anything dreamed up by any "Super Beings" wigwagged on the Potomac's banks. And he resents his Congressman informing him his ideas are not valid because they don't jibe with administration policies, regardless of who administration may be.

Thus, basic issue today is whether Jeffersonian principles of democracy will be restored, or whether U. S. Republic will continue embracing theories espoused by Plato in ancient Greece that super intellects should have the power to make all decisions without consent of people's directly elected representatives; in fact even deprived of knowing facts at any time by simple issuance of an executive order.

Thus, hue and cry is largely over whether Congress should be a rubber stamp, or repository of the power and glory of the American people. It is most momentous issue to ever face nation.

IONE School Notes

Chester L. Ward, Superintendent

We were very much pleased with the way our boys played in the basketball game at Stanfield Jan. 7 but were sorry that the score came out 42 to 41 in favor of Stanfield. This game did the boys much good, however.

The following evening the Lexington team, who have one League victory under their belt, were determined to take another from the Cardinals here at the Cardinals came out with a comfortable margin in their favor.

Saturday evening was one of great success for Ione. In the afternoon at 3:30 the Lexington Volleyball team played the Ione girls. This was a good time for getting acquainted and a fine luncheon was served afterward. In the evening the second basketball team lost their first game to Lexington but the first squad won. During the half time Mrs. Millers grade school tumbling class performed. A dance followed the games, also lunch was served by the Juniors.

The week of Jan. 10 is a busy one. P-TA will be Jan. 12. Then Friday Jan. 14 at 2:30 p. m. Heppner grade school will play basketball here. That evening the High school Cardinals will go to Irrigon. Saturday Jan. 15 Condon grade school will play basketball here at 2 p. m. and the Cardinals will be to Boardman that evening.

Jan. 27 the E. O. C. E. Freshmen will play the Cardinals here at 8 p. m. There will also be special entertainment.

Second Semester exams will be given starting Jan. 17 and reports sent out the following week.

We wish to thank all who helped to make the Christmas program a success and for your splendid cooperation.

We wish to remind all parents that they are always welcome to call at the office at all times.
