TIDY GIRLS

A meeting of the Tidy Girls 4-H home making club was held on Friday March 4 at the home of Janice Wetzel.

The roll call was answered with something that you sew with.

At this meeting it was decided to hold a display of last years 4-H club work in the lobby of the Lexington postoffice on Monday March 7. We also discussed our responsibilities for this years club work.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Carol Ann Palmer on March 16.

The Tidy Girls organized their club on January 5. The members of the club and offices that they hold are as follows: Janice Wetzel, president; Carol Ann Palmer, secretary and Georgia Gibson, news reporter.

IONE School Notes

Chester L. Ward, Superintendent

We wish to thank the people of the community for their fine cooperation during both the high school and the grade school tournaments. There were very fine turnouts at all the games. The grade school tournament was held at Heppner last weekend and Ione came out 4th place. They won from Boardman and lost to Condon and Lexington.

Kenneth Hill, an I. F. Y. E. to Norway gave a talk to the assembly Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

Beginning next week there will be several band concerts. The band will go to Echo and Umatilla and they will come here. Watch for further announcements.

The annual athletic banquet will be held April 1.

The Juniors are very busy getting ready for their Junior-Senior banquet and prom to be held later in the spring.

The boys are looking forward to the baseball games. The first game will be played at Irrigon April 5.

The raccoon that wouldn't come down

They said old Andrew Jackson was so fierce he could stare a raccoon out of a tree. So (the story goes) a friend made a bet on it. And "Old Hickory," who could be as obliging as he was terrifying, set out to help his friend win.

One night he and the financially interested parties went into the moonlit woods. They spotted their game, a small round silhouette high on a limb.

Fixing his baleful eye on the target, Andrew Jackson stared. He scowled. He glowered. He glared all night—but the raccoon never came down.

Even so, Andrew Jackson hadn't failed. For at sunup the men saw that what he had been staring at wasn't a raccoon after all, but a huge knot on the tree. And he had stared some of the bark off that!

A TALL STORY. But no taller than the man, born 188 years ago, about whom it was told. For rough, tough Andrew Jackson—soldier at 13, senator at 30, major general at 35, and our seventh president at the climax of his career—was one of the true giants of our nation's youth. Personally fearless, relentless toward his enemies, but self-reliant, honest and straightforward, he was the very embodiment of the early American spirit.

That spirit is as vital today as it was then. And you are an active part of it every time you invest in another United States Savings Bond.

For Bonds, which pay you good interest (3% compounded semiannually, when held to maturity) can make you personally independent in the best American tradition.

If you haven't already started on the Savings Bond road to individual security and independence, why not begin today?
