

Arlington Falls Before Mustangs Tuesday 13 to 6

By Larry Mollahan

The Heppner Mustangs overpowered a week Arlington club 13 to 6 in the second baseball game of the season. The game originally scheduled for last Friday was postponed because of the rain till Tuesday and clear weather.

Posting their second scalp in two games Heppner still had a lot of room for improvement in the eyes of coach Larry Doven.

Playing down on the river boys' diamond, the Mustangs found the lower altitude to their liking and racked up four runs in the first inning of play. Arlington was putting on a good show collecting three scores in the first too.

The first pitch of the game saw Jim Hayes belt a long one that put him on third. Hayes was ticketed for home on a single by Skip Ruhl. Lyle Jensen didn't let Ruhl down but brought him in on a single that wound up on the scoring plate after Jerry Dougherty in on a single to set the pace with four runs.

John Dean, John Hudson, and Ed Palmer each negotiated their way in to total three runs for Arlington.

Ed Olson tripled and Dick Kononen walked and made it to second. An error on the shortstop let them both go on a scoring sprint. Lance Tibbles knocked a fly and sent Jensen, who got on on a walk, home.

Haltfield came in on a triple to make it 7 to 4 at the end of the second for Arlington.

It wasn't until the fourth that Kononen came in on the hurler's error to furnish the only score for Heppner. Don White completed a walk successfully for the Honkers to stop the scoring in the fourth at 8 to 5.

Hudson made a fly into center field that netted him a triple and made it on Joe Mull's fly to score for Arlington.

Heppner was on a scoring spree in the sixth with Ruhl, Jensen, Olson, and Kononen each scoring. Jensen was the hero of the day hitting a triple when the bases were loaded. Buck Lamb stopped the scoring for both sides with a single in the sixth.

Improvement on the mound was noted with hurler Jim Hayes striking out nine Honkers and walking six. Arlington's pitcher John Huston struck out only five Mustangs and walked four.

The Mustangs host Condon on Thursday at 2:30 and have a return game a week from this Friday over there.

Larger Potato Plantings Dim Price Outlook

Prospects for larger potato plantings in Idaho, Washington and California are casting a shadow over the market outlook for the 1955 crop, says Oregon State College extension specialists.

Prices to growers are likely to be disappointing, they believe, unless bad weather or an unusual shift in planting plans change the picture.

A recent U. S. department of agriculture survey reveals growers of Idaho and Washington plan 7 percent more acreage than last year. California has already planted 23 percent more early potatoes. These increases are planned even though last year's production provided adequate supplies at fair prices.

M. D. Thomas, OSC extension economist, says the prospective acreages would mean a 35 percent increase in California's early potato crop if yields are as good as in 1951. Idaho's crop could be more than one-fifth larger than last year if yields equal those of 1952.

Oregon growers' plans in March were shaped up to the same acreage as last year, but Thomas says some may now stay out of the fight for the potato market this year and use their land, water and fertilizer for some other crop.

The economist suggests this is a good time to leave alfalfa, clover and grass an extra year rather than planting potatoes. "A low return from grain or hay would be better than a loss on potatoes," he concludes.
