EASTER SUNDAY RITES UNITE LT. BLACKBURN, PATRICIA MCGEE

By Mary Lee Marlow
At an afternoon ceremony on Easter Sunday Miss Patricia Ann McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. McGee, Walla Walla, Wash., became the bride of Lt. John Smith Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blackburn, of Baytown, Texas at the First Congregational church in Walla Walla.

The double ring service was performed by the Rev. Franklin R. Elliott, church pastor, before a flower decked altar. A smart military note was sounded by the appearance of the bridegroom his attendants and an honor guard in airforce dress uniforms. Baskets of white, pink and lavender stock, and white Easter lilies were on the altar and white tapers were used on both the altar and in scances along the walls of the church.

Stanley Plummer, Walla Walla, played the wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Miss Patricia Neal, Delta Delta Delta sorority sister of the bride, who sang "The Rosary" and "How Do I Love Thee."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal length gown of nylon net over white satin, styled with fitted bodice with rounded neckline outlined in wide imported Italian lace, short sleeves and bouffant skirt of net with an accordion pleated ruffle in an apron-like flounce banded by the same lace. Her fingertip length veil of white net fell from a crown of pearls and rhinestones and she carried a white orchid with butterfly roses tied with pink shower ribbons. The six-strand pearl necklace and matching earrings which she wore were gifts of the bridegroom. She wore the traditional blue garter and carried a "borrowed" white lace handkerchief, while the penny which her father placed in her slipper was the one he had received in change when he purchased his wife's wedding ring 25 years ago.

Mrs. Grendall Hawes of Boardman was matron of honor, and wore a gown of chartreuse hammered satin, ballerina length, with rounded neckline finished in lace to match that on the bride's gown. She carried a bouquet of rose pink carnations and matching ribbon.

Miss Barbara Love, Boardman, and Mrs. Roger Cummings, Echo, were bridesmaids, and wore gowns of the same design as Mrs. Hawes' of pale green and carried bouquets of light pink carnations with matching ribbons. All three wore single strands of pearls and matching earrings.

M/Sgt. Grendall Hawes of Boardman was best man and 2nd Lt. Roger Jacobson and 1st Lt. Roger Kemper served as other attendants for the bridegroom. The ushers were S/Sgt. Charles Fetters and S/Sgt. Alfred Morin, who also lighted the candles before the ceremony.

An honor guard, with sabres, stood at attention in the church foyer before the ceremony and at the back of the church during the exchange of vows, later taking places with crossed sabres on either side of the door as the couple left the church.

Following the ceremony the reception was in the Y. W. C. A. lounge with baskets of pastel-colored stock marking the place where the receiving line stood. Miss Shirley Hughes, sorority sister of the bride, was in charge of arrangements.

The serving table, laid with an exquisite lace cloth, was centered with a low arrangement of pink and yellow carnations, and silver candelabra with white tapers. Mrs. Ralph McKinley of Pomeroy, Wash., and Mrs. Fern McKinley of Dayton Wash., aunts of the bride, presided at the table. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Alvin Ashley and Mrs. Douglas McKinley of Dayton, cousins of the bride.

The tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated, was on a separate table with pink and white carnations encircling it. Mrs. Eldon Wyrick of Walla Walla, served the cake, after the first piece was cut by the couple.

Mrs. Earl Schneider of Seattle, Wash., was in charge of the punch bowl. Miss Patricia Neal preside over the guest book and Mrs. Laura Shortt, also a sorority sister of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Mead the gifts.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McGee wore a sheath dress in ice blue, embroidered with rhinestone and pearl trim, a Coramay hat in shades of ice blue and orchid with a touch of pink, with pink accessories. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid with pink elf rose buds. She also wore a champagne colored faille duster.

The bridegroom's parents were unable to be present at the wedding.

For Traveling the bride wore an orchid wool suit, with matching hat, and accessories in avocado green and a topper of cream colored summer tweed flecked with orchid. She wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet as a corsage.

Lt. Blackburn is commander of the Boardman Bombing Range, and he and Mrs. Blackburn will live in the officers' quarters at Ordinance following a honeymoon trip to Victoria, B. C. Mrs. Blackburn will continue to teach the seventh and eighth grades in the Boardman school and in physical education classes for girls in the Boardman High school. She is a graduate of Whitman college in 1954, and last summer had an eight-week course at the University of Hawaii.

Lt. Blackburn, a graduate of Rice Institute of Huston, Texas, was employed by a Huston furniture company before he entered the Air Force.

Attending the wedding from Boardman were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tatone, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Phaneuf, Mrs. William Garner, Lorelei Hamilton, Edna Hoffman, Anita Garner, Dick Garner, Douglas Shattuck, M/Sgt. and Mrs. Grendall Hawes, Terry and Sharon Hawes, Lt. Roger Jacobson, T/Sgt. and Mrs. Thurman Johnson, S/Sgt. Charles Fetters, S/Sgt. and Mrs. Frances Berges.

Mother's Day

Is nearly Here. How About A NEW BLOUSE

—oodles of new styles have just arrived. Or how about a new cotton dress—oodles of half sizes have come in the Kirkwood and Edith Marling lines. The cottons are arriving daily and every day it snows...

LAST YEAR

I had bedding plants come on Mother's Day but I believe it will be too early this year. We will have bedding plants the middle of May if it warms up.

Sara McNamer's stove is in my back room and is for sale cheap.

How About A Plant or CORSAGE for Mother? Will have nice geraniums that can be set out later.
