150 Attend Homemakers Meet At Boardman

By Mary Lee Marlow
 "Ten Years of Progress" was the theme of the program for the annual Homemaker's Festival held here Tuesday, May 3, in the new gymnasium. There were 118 registered during the morning, with many more attending in the afternoon. About 150 were fed by the Home Economics club of Greenfield Grange during the noon hour at the hall.

Mrs. William Garner presided at the morning session. Group singing was led by Mrs. Norman Nelson, Lexington, with Mrs. E. Markham Baker, Ione, at the piano. Miss Murle Scales, clothing specialist from O. S. C., Corvallis, extended greetings from the college. Miss Beverly Bradshaw, county extension agent.

Heppner, introduced members of the county committee and the unit chairmen. Charles Sargent, Boardman, sang a solo, "Mother". Nelson C. Anderson, county agent of Heppner, spoke on Extension Progress in Morrow County. Review of past agents was given by alumni county committee members.

During the noon hour at the grange hall old time musical numbers were played by Mrs. Hugh Brown and Mrs. Frank Marlow, Boardman. The Boardman high school girls chorus sang two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. John Partlow.

Highlights of the afternoon program was a style show, with the ladies modeling clothes that dated back as far as 1882. Mrs. Miles Martin, Heppner, modeled her mother's "going away dress" on that date. Mrs. Nathan Thorpe Boardman, modeled the wedding dress of her mother, Mrs. Paul Smith, Union, who was married in 1904. Many dresses and suits were modeled of the 1920s, 1930s and 1940s. Dresses, suits and coats (Continued on Page Four)

The answer to everyday insurance problems*

By Turner Van Marter & Bryant

QUESTION: I saw somewhere a very sound test to apply to the purchase of any insurance but I've forgotten just what it was. Could you publish it in your column?

ANSWER: Insurance protects against loss from certain risks. The test is whether your finances could stand the maximum loss from a certain risk. If that maximum loss could ruin you financially it's wise to insure. If the maximum loss would be only irritating and inconvenient the insurance is a matter of preference and judgment.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.
