Growers Save Many Dollars With New Weed Preventer

A unique weed preventer called CRAG Herbicide-1 that kills weed seedlings before they get a chance to grow, is saving growers thousands of dollars they used to spend on weeding labor!

Since its discovery it has prevented weeds in extensive plantings of strawberries, asparagus, nursery stock, seed corn, peanuts and potatoes. Individual growers have reported savings as high as $1,000 per acre!

The new weed preventer offers a novel concept in weed control—weed prevention! The usual hand weeding and machine cultivation have long been costly to growers. Moreover, both hand weeding and machine cultivation often cause plant damage. CRAG Herbicide-1 not only saves weeding money, it is safe —so safe it can be sprayed directly on plant leaves without harming them.

The herbicide is a white powder that dissolves easily in water for spraying on the soil. Once in the soil, bacteria change it to a material that kills weed seedlings before they can grow into weeds and become a problem.

Both broadleaved and grass weeds are killed as they sprout. Applied about every six weeks, the weed preventer keeps crops weed-free all season long.
