We are now in our third month and beginning to feel the seriousness of our school duties. The summer care-free days are now run by clocks and bells. The calloused hands are limbering up to musical instruments, typewriters, and pencils. Many boys who operated heavy machinery are now sprinting down the field. We are still stiff, a little clumsy, and somewhat rusty, but we hope that before long we shall be in our stride. With willing cooperation of minds and hands and the aid of teachers and fellow classmates, we hope to beat all obstacles.

I Need A Downfield Block
 The players fight for every yard with every ounce of muscle; Wild-eyed alumni shout advice on how to win the tussle. The coach is pacing up and down. He's acting almost frantic: Cheer leaders bite their nails and pray. Between each crazy antic. If we could trade anxieties—My gaze would be seraphic—My worry is, when it is done, I must drive home through traffic!

Paper Staff News

The paper staff is coming along fine with their work. They all wish to thank the Heppner Gazette Times for their fine cooperation with the paper.

Page editors have been added to the staff so the editor and assistant editor are navigating much better without that last minute wear and tear.

Besides the Cardinal Corner in the Heppner Gazette Times, the Cardinal staff also has a separate school paper that comes out every month. This paper has some of the same news that is published in the weekly paper and some other news written up specifically for its use.

Junior Class News

The Junior class had a popcorn ball party at Rietmann's home, Wednesday the nineteenth to make popcorn balls for the football concessions the following day. Approximately 165 popcorn balls were made.

The food sale at Swanson's store Saturday was very successful with the cooperation of all.

Thursday afternoon when Ione played Echo the Juniors sold popcorn balls, home made candy, hot dogs, coffee and pop in the concessions stand.

Senior Class News

The senior class has been deciding on the pictures they want from the proofs which almost everyone got Saturday. It is hard to decide which ones you want.

We have also been practicing our plays. The plays will be given to the public on November 15. The names of the plays are "The Stuffed Shirt" and "The Bachelor League". We have ordered the graduation announcements. We are all waiting for May 25th to come.

Sports In General

Football is just about a thing of the past at I. H. S. with only two more games remaining on the schedule. The past week the Cardinals played good hard ball only to lose to a fighting bunch of Echo Cougars, 20-0.

Touch football and the trampoline have kept both the boys and girls on their toes during P. E. Some of the students, under the direction of Mr. Pierce, put on

Heppner High School SCOOP

By Karen Prock

Five delegates from Future Farmers of America represented the Heppner school at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland Oct. 22.

Gary Jones, Bob Stevens, and Bob Hare were on the judging team. Jerry Brace, Tom Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Robbins also attended.

The boys attended a general assembly in the morning and received instructions on livestock judging. There were fifty teams with three boys to a team.

The livestock which the boys judged were Herefords, Angus, Shorthorns, Sheep, Hampshire pigs, and Chesterwhites.

Each team had 15 minutes to judge each class. The Heppner boys received second place in their judging of the Chesterwhite pigs.

Boys were there representing Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Firemen look to your laurels! Just as L. L. Robbins was leaving the P. I. show, he smelled smoke.

After a quick glance around, he ripped off a door and doused the fire. The Heppner boys were sure that L. L. Robbins saved the day for Pacific International!

"Three days vacation," is the happy cry of all students. Next week will make up for it though, because it is the end of the 9-week period, which always means tests.

The sophomore class sponsored a Buck and Doe dance, Oct. 26. All of the guys and gals purchased their tags from Janice Beamer or Joann Brosnan and then proceeded to tag a buck or doe to escort to the dance.

William Dean Hamilton presented an assembly Monday Oct. 24. Mr. Hamilton recited serious and humorous poetry.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship held a candy sale in the high school halls Oct. 21. The Hehisch stated that the profits of this sale would go towards the purchase of a jukebox, instead this money will go to replenish their treasury.

Unusual-exciting-hilarious The journalism class presented an assembly at the student body meeting Oct. 26.

James Monahan recited "Dangerous Dan McGrew", while other members acted out this number. Jay Sumner and Eddie Olson harmonized on "I'm a Lonesome Polecat". Meredith Thomson and Jay Sumner gave a half-time entertainment during the Echo game. I am sure everyone enjoyed it and are looking forward for more of it in the future and during basketball season.

Stanfield Game

The game with Stanfield will be set back to the original date Oct. 28, at 8 p. m. due to too many program conflicts.
