WHAT'S DOING
D. A. Short, your Telephone Manager for Heppner

Housewife rates her telephone "tops"

"Of all my household items," says Mrs. F. G. Dominey, "I think my telephone is the most useful. I can't count all the ways I depend on it. For example, I do a lot of my shopping by phone. Then there are the calls for repairs, to make appointments, to round up my youngsters in the neighborhood, and for a hundred and one other things. And that doesn't include all the pleasure our phone brings us... as a fast, easy way to visit friends and relatives. I certainly don't know what we'd do without it." Most people we've talked to agree with Mrs. Dominey about the usefulness of the telephone. Isn't it true that few things which serve so well cost so little? Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Enjoy a family visit in several cities at once by long distance

Did you know you can actually talk to several members of your family at the same time by long distance? Well, you can, even if they're scattered all over the country. Each of you can talk back and forth to the rest as if you were all in the same room. We call this a telephone conference call. To place one, just tell your operator the people you want to talk to, where they live, their phone numbers, and when you want to talk. She'll do the rest. You'll be pleasantly surprised at how little it costs, especially if you call after 6 p. m. in the evening or any time Sunday. Why not give your whole family a real surprise with a conference call tonight?

Want to save shopping time?

What's more tiring than to travel from store to store, in search of some special item, without finding exactly the thing you want? Then, of course, you run across it in the very last place you try. And your feet tell you how long and hard you've looked. But you can easily save yourself all this trouble by using the Yellow Pages in your telephone book. They quickly show you where to find almost any item imaginable. So next time you have shopping to do, turn to the Yellow Pages first. They're your handy guide to the local people who sell or serve.
