ROSY SAYS: I see by my paper where the government is going to start buying pigs. What we really need in government is a good used car salesman. He wouldn't buy pigs and wheat, but he would do some horse trading with those countries that are hungry and he would get rid of the surplus in that way. He is accustomed to selling or trading his old cars to make it possible to sell some new model cars. The wheat and pigs should be moved out before the new model crop is ready. P. S.
