This is the flour we love to sift To make our neighbor's Christmas gift

Family or neighbors... They love the very special treat of the old-fashioned Christmas breads. Wrapped and ribboned in gay colors, these golden wheat gifts will delight all. Did you know that northwest homemakers are blessed with a near-at-hand source of world's finest cake and pastry flour—made from premium "soft wheat" varieties grown in Oregon?

Traditional Breads for Holiday Hospitality The new, simplified methods for making these traditional yeast bread favorites are easy and fun. First, let's not be afraid to handle our doughs... they'll not get tough from handling. Watch the temperature of the liquid used with the yeast... too much heat will kill the yeast. Avoid using more flour than the recipe calls for... well-blended flour is only good when used in right amount. Knead thoroughly but lightly... this insures light tender product.

German Christmas Stollen Traditional German Christmas Stollen is easy to make and keeps for months. The flavor improves with age—if you can keep it out of reach of your holiday guests and family.

1 pkg. dry granular yeast or compressed yeast, 1/2 cup warm water, 1 cup scalded milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup soft butter, 2 beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1/2 cup dried citron, 1/2 cup finely cut candied cherries, 1 cup silvered, blanched almonds, grated rind of 1 lemon, 1 cup seedless raisins. Dissolve yeast in water. Add cooled milk, sugar, butter, eggs, salt and flour. Mix until a dough is formed. Knead on floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and let rise, twice, until double in size. After second rising, knead in citron, cherries, almonds, rind, and raisins. Roll into large oval about 1 1/2" thick. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Fold and crease center of dough. Place on greased cookie sheet, brush with butter and let rise until double. Bake at 350 degrees 45 minutes. Cool, sprinkle with sifted powdered sugar.

Drop in to see your favorite bakery... they have a wide store of luscious Christmas breads to delight your taste and eye. Your baker uses top-quality ingredients, including flour made from Oregon wheat.

O-KI-ZU CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The O-Ki-Zu Camp Fire group held their weekly meeting at the Christian church on November 28. We elected new officers, they are president, Geraldine Swagart; vice president, Elizabeth Van Scholack; secretary, Jeanne Schmidt; hospitality chairman, Beverly Blake; reporter, Judy Schmidt.

At the meeting we decided to go caroling the Monday before Christmas. Each girl is going to invite a girl from the 5th, 6th and 7th grades After caroling we will have a party.

On November 21 at the meeting we made pilgrim trays favors to take to the old folks at the hospital.

HAPPY BLUE BIRDS

The Happy Blue Birds and the Merry Blue Birds went to the hospital to sing Christmas carols and other songs to the patients there. They gave each of the older people there a box of homemade candy and cookies made by the members of the Young Mothers club. After their songs they returned to their meeting place for refreshments served by Patricia Van Winkle. Diane Warren, reporter
