

Hobby Show Held At Ione P. T. A.

By Echo Palmateer

A Hobby show was put on by the dads at the P-T-A meeting Jan. 11. Grant Rigby, shop instructor, was chairman of the program which consisted of a barber shop quarter by Walter Jacobs, Adon Hamlett, Gary Stevenson and Joe Hausler. Demonstrations included wood-working the lathe with sage brush by Ray Barnett; fly tying by E. Storro; leather working by Earl McKinney, reloading ammunition by L. A. McCabe; and a motion picture on how to take pictures with photo flash equipment by Mr. Rigby. Boys had their model airplanes on display and Paul Miller displayed his agates and rocks.

At the business meeting conducted by Ray Heimbigner, president, the flag salute was given and the invocation by Rev. Alfred Shirley. Mr. Heimbigner thanked all who helped on the Community Christmas tree and program. In the room count the 10th grade mothers and the 8th grade fathers were high.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the following dads: Leo Crabtree, Earl McCabe, Phil Emert, Herman Blettell, Robert DeSpain, Ernest McCabe and Walter Corley. The tables were decorated in the hobby theme.

Books added to the Ione public library are by Zane Grey: "Wild Horse Mesa"; "The Trail Driver"; "Ken Ward in the Jungle"; "Shadow on the Trail"; "Last of the Great Scouts"; "Sunset Pass"; "The Young Pitcher"; "Wild Fire"; "Wandered of the Wasteland" and "The Day of the Beast."

Now that the halfway mark is drawn we can start a clean slate, to try to work harder. The juniors are looking forward to take the place of the seniors and the seniors are looking for the time to be out of school. The graduates before are wishing to be back in high school. So you see that it is one big vicious circle.

This next semester lets give the seniors something to remember. Lets really get in and work, because who knows we might be elected. "The Most Studious Student Body of 1956". Think of that title. Something like that, the seniors would never forget. So kids lets "Grin and Bear it" and do the best of our ability.

Pep Rally
There was a pep rally over town Friday, January 13. There were yells, numbers from our band and pep talks from Keith Rea and Mr. Larry Pryse. We feel that these are two of our biggest games of the year.

The American Legion auxiliary have as a project the serving of refreshments at the town team basketball games here.
Rev. and Mrs. Wilfred McKay recently made a trip to California.
Mrs. Ida Coleman went to Portland this week to be with her granddaughter, Mary Ann Williams, who will under go a heart operation Wednesday at the Dorenhecker hospital.
