The answer to everyday insurance problems*
By Turner Van Marter & Bryant

QUESTION: My wife and I have been thinking of buying a trailer home and taking a long vacation trip. How could my Liability insurance be made to cover the trailer?

ANSWER: Under the terms of most standard policies payment of a small additional premium will broaden your Liability coverage to include the trailer. However you must insure the trailer in the same Company which carries your automobile Liability or your car will not be covered while it is pulling the trailer. There are certain types of policies which automatically include a house trailer with an insured car so better have your policy checked by a competent insurance agent.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

Nothing without wings climbs like a '56 Chevrolet!

Ever level off a mountain with your foot? Nothing to it. Just point this new '56 Chevy uphill and ease down on the gas.

Up you go with a quiet (hydraulic-hushed valve lifters now in all engines—V8 or 6) rush of power. This is the car, you know, that broke the Pikes Peak record. The car that conquered towering grades and vicious switchback turns to prove its superior performance, handling ease and cornering ability.

These are built-in qualities that mean more driving pleasure and safety for you. Chevrolet also offers such safety features as seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding as extra-cost options.
