ROSY SAYS: You see a lot of goofy automobile advertising any more on TV and in the news papers. I saw an advertisement on TV a few days ago where a dealer said he was selling new cars for $1695.00 and a few minutes later he said they were paying $1700.00 for three year old cars. Its an insult to the average prospects intelligence. I suppose they operate on the assumption a sucker is born every minute as the great Barnum once said. We have been able to get our share of the market by giving honest value and square dealing. We intend to continue to operate on mutual trust basis.

NEW ELECTION LAWS

The 1955 Legislature created a number of laws relating to elections. One that will face new voters requires a sworn statement that he meets all voter requirements and qualifications.

A voter who fails to change his registration after moving to a new precinct will get bad news if he goes back to the old precinct and tries to vote. However, if he is successful in voting at his old precinct he may be unsuccessful in keeping out of jail. If election officials catch him he can be fined $5,000 and sentenced to jail for two years.

If election judges or clerks allow illegal voting or contribute to the mistakes of a voter by carelessness or conspiracy they are subject to fines up to $2,000 and three years in jail.

The state department of elections has always been lenient with candidates who sent in their filings by mail. They have at-ways been accepted if the postmark showed they were posted before the 5 p. m. deadline. A change in the law requires that filing must be made before the deadline at the office of the elections department. The date this year for the primary election deadline is March 9.

In an effort to stop anonymous letters and circulars the law now requires they must contain the name of the author and publisher. Pictures in the Voters Pamphlet are now limited to portraits, no caricatures, maps or cartoons.

By paying in advance candidates and political organizations can now get recounts of elections. It is now required that all candidates for the same office must be put in the same column on the ballot.

For the first time information will appear in the Voters Pamphlet on how to vote, how to arrange for an absentee ballot and other election information.

FOR A VERY LONG TIME Portland has been in a position to control the state politically but that has not happened since the ribald days of Jo Simon—over 50 years ago.

The Democrats now have most of the Multnomah County offices and are going after the city jobs. Sheriff Terry Schunk, a top vote-getter in their dream of a sure fire winner for mayor. G. O. P. pundits are scared and are pressing State Tax Commissioner Ray Smith to oppose Schunk. They see him as the only hope to defeat the sheriff.

Weather Retards Sale Volume

HERMISTON—An Echo consignor took home top money for his fed heifers from the Hermiston livestock auction Friday, sale manager Delbert Anson said today.

Jasper Meyers of Echo earned $15.00 a hundredweight for 14 fed heifers weighing in at 12,310 pounds.

John Woods of Fossil was the big consignor of the day, however. Woods received $18.70 a hundredweight for 56 white face steer calves of 21,075 pounds.

Although bad weather held volume down, the sale moved swiftly. There were 43 consignors and 254 cattle, 138 hogs and no sheep.

Steer and heifer calves went higher at the sale and fed heifers regained strength lost in last week's sale. Bulls dropped slightly, while hogs continued to climb back up.

Buyers are calling for more steer and heifer calves and fed cows. Fed heifers are netting more money. Grain fed steers are also selling well.

The market: CATTLE: Baby calves, 3.50 to 21.00 a head; steer calves 16.20 to 18.70 cwt.; heifer calves, 14.30 to 16.30 cwt.; veal, 19.50 to 21.00 cwt.; Stocker steers, 13.40 to 14.50 cwt.; feeder steers, 14.50 to 15.90 cwt.; no fat slaughter steers; fat heifers, 13.50 to 15.00 cwt. Dairy cows, 82.00 to 97.50 a head; four stock cows at 97.00 a head; commercial cows, 11.30 to 12.80 cwt.; utility cows, 10.10 to 11.20 cwt.; canner cutter cows, 8.10 to 9.85 cwt.; shells, 3.10 to 6.90 cwt. Bulls, 11:40 to 14:10 cwt.

HOGS: Weaner pigs, 1.50 to 3.50 a head; feeder pigs, 10.10 to 10.70 cwt.; fat hogs, 13.50 to 14.60 cwt.; sows 8.40 to 11.10 cwt. SHEEP: None.

HAPPY BLUEBIRDS The Happy Bluebirds enjoyed a visit to the Gazette Times office last week. We were shown how the paper is printed, how pictures are made from mats for the advertising and how our names are put on each paper for mailing. We watched Mr. Brownlow set type on the linotype machine and Mr. Smith showed us how to put the ink on the press, how to cut the papers and many other things. We learned a lot on our visit.

This week the Merry Bluebirds gave a party. They made pretty plates, dollies and place cards for us. We had a nice time. Tamara Smith, reporter

Farm Parity Index Surveys Scheduled In Eight Counties

A nationwide survey authorized by the last Congress to help bring the farm "parity index" up to date gets underway in eight Oregon counties early in February, reports M. D. Thomas, Oregon college of agricultural economist.

This is the first time farmers have been interviewed on a national scale for this purpose. Information is needed on current costs of both farm family living and farm operations. Findings will be used not only for improving the parity index but also in studies of farm income and expenses, Thomas explains.

The parity index is used by the U. S. department of agriculture to determine what Congress considers fair prices for farm products in relation to costs of things farmers must buy.

The survey will be conducted locally by the Oregon crop reporting service in Clackamas, Josephine, Lake, Lane, Marion, Tillamook, Wasco, and Washington counties. About 40 farmers in each of the eight counties will be interviewed. Nationally, reports will be obtained from about 10,000 farm operators in 340 selected counties. Individual reports will be held confidential and used only in combination with reports from other farmers to obtain regional and national totals. Final results will be used by farm groups and others concerned with farm spending and income.

The survey will obtain information on the buying habits of American farmers, both as to the kinds and amounts of goods and services. This information, used in revising and modernizing the parity index, will also include taxes, interest, and wage rates. Thomas points out that the hourly wage rate paid by Oregon farmers reached an all-time high on January 1 and is topped only by Connecticut and Washington.

New 4-H Cooking, Sewing Projects Offered Members

New projects in cooking and sewing are now being offered 4-H club members in Oregon, according to Burton Hutton, state 4-H leader.

An outdoor cooking project has been outlined for boys and girls who want the fun of fixing food outdoors. Winnifred Gillen, state extension leader in charge of the project, says the outdoors may be a city park, backyard, beach, forest camp or backyard patio.

"If there's room enough for the crackle of a fire or the flow of charcoal, the place isn't too important," she pointed out.

Three project break-downs are made according to age. Younger members, 9 to 11 years of age, take "Outdoor Cooks." "Outdoor Chefs" is for boys and girls about 12 to 14 and older members take the project division known as "Overnighters," in which they camp out overnight. Receipt books especially for outdoor cooking will be sent to 4-H club members who enroll in the project as soon as they are printed, says Mrs. Gillen. "Getting the Most Out of Your Sewing Machine" has been designed to familiarize beginning sewers with operations of their machines.

Unique feature of the new project is the intensive leader training program that is being offered to adult volunteer 4-H club leaders, according to Rosalie Mueller, state extension agent.

All clothing leaders in Oregon will be taught parts of the machine, adjustment and care, and use of attachments. The same training program has been developed for all 4-H clubs in the country by federal and state club leaders, Miss Mueller says.

Home economics extension agents will receive training at scheduled meetings in Pendleton, Medford and Portland in the next three months. After they receive their training, they will instruct local county club leaders.
