ROSY SAYS: I don't choose to run. I am making an early announcement that I do not choose to run for re-election as city councilman. Its every man's duty to give part of his time to the community in which he lives, without pay. When one man stays in office too long he deprives some other good citizen of an opportunity to serve. Probably the three most outstanding projects accomplished while serving with the council was the sewer project, digging the new city well and granting the TV franchise. I am not retiring from the spot light all together. I am still a candidate for the best Ford dealer in the United States and with your continued loyal support I hope to get the nomination. This New 1956 Ford with Thunderbird styling and Thunderbird power is going to be a mighty big help in coralling votes.

FOLLOWS PATTERSON

The first official statement by Oregon's new Governor Elmo E. Smith after receiving his oath of office from Chief Justice Harold Warner was that he would carry out the program of his predecessor, the late Governor Paul L. Patterson. This he is well schooled to do. He served in the Senate with Patterson in 1949 and in 1951 when Patterson was President of the Senate, and again in 1953 when Patterson was governor and in 1955 when Governor Smith was President of the Senate and Patterson was governor. Governor Smith will serve until January 14, 1957, unless he runs and is elected to serve the remainder of the term for which Patterson was elected. This will be the second Monday in January, 1959.

MUSICAL CHAIRS

Do not be coddled Mr. and Mrs. Voter by the calm and sanctimonious air of the leaders of either major political party. They are having their troubles—and with. Political candidates are jumping from office to office and back again in a musical chair outline. From day to day neither kingmakers nor candidates know what they are running for. So far there is fine harmony following the script, "party first."

U. S. Senator Wayne Morse is just what the Democrats asked for and is the only spot on their ticket that is settled. The only other Democrat that is rated even as a long-shot competitor would be Justice Earl C. Latourette.

The Republican to be selected to run against Senator Morse was at the funeral of Governor Patterson last Friday. That much you can be assured. Our guess is one of this quartette: Guy Cordon, Doug McKay, Charlie Sprague, Bill Walsh, to use political slang, Guy is in the role of the captain that lost his ship—but not by much—but lost. Doug has the "give-away" handicap to fight and is in bad with organized labor (might be more handy than handicap). It would take a severe emergency to prevail upon Charlie to run. He had a term as governor some ten years ago and we haven't had a state sales tax since. If Bill Walsh would curb his independence (that the kingmakers are aware of) he could make a great fight from the platforms of the soap-

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR COUNTY SHERIFF I hereby announce my candidacy to succeed myself for the office of Sheriff of Morrow County subject to the will of the Republican voters of Morrow County at the primary election. C. J. D. BAUMAN Pd. Adv. 47fc box circuit—that's where the campaign will be decided in November.

Robert Holmes, Gearhart Democrat, announced Monday he would file for governor. Monroe Sweetland, Milwaukie Democrat, has filed for Secretary of State as has Mark Hatfield, Salem Republican. Either or both may be drafted by their party to run for governor. State Treasurer Sig Unander, Portland Republican, may bet the party nod to go for governor. Secretary of State Earl T. Newby may file for the Republican nomination for governor. He was a great vote-getter until he ran against popular Governor Patterson. Henry Semon, Klamath Falls, for the last quarter of a century a member of the Legislature, is dodging Democrats who are trying to harness him and run him for governor.

More for U. S. Senate or Governor: Harry Dorman, Salem (Rep), Phil Hitchcock, Portland (Rep), David B. Simpson, Portland (Rep), Giles French, Moro (Rep), if he would be his own press agent.

William Healy, Salem Republican, assistant secretary of state, for eight years, announced he would be a candidate for secretary of state last week.
