Heppner High School SCOOP

By Alice Peterson
Future Business Leaders of America has started a vigorous campaign for the Red Cross. The members will be washing cars downtown at Rosewall Motors on Saturday, March 17. Other tentative plans include collecting from school employees, a dutch auction, and a charge assembly for the student body.

Members of the speech class and the one-act play cast participated in the Morrow county speech festival in Lexington, on March 6.

Eight members of the Hehisch staff that attended the Seattle press conference gave reports to the journalism class.

Office practice classes have started work on the dictaphone. They also typed programs for the speech festival, and are typing the programs for the White House followup conference, at Iona.

The Quill and Scroll is going to donate the book, "Minding Our Own Business" to the high school library as one of their projects.

Ed Olson has been in the hospital.

The Hehisch entered two contests recently—an editorial contest sponsored by Pacific University, and a front page contest sponsored by the University of Oregon. Results from the latter will be announced in April.

Heppner high school band will present a concert to the public at 8:00 p. m. on March 20.
