Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parsons motored to Portland on Wednesday taking their infant daughter to a physician in that city. The young lady was operated on in that city and it is hoped she will be able to return home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Richards and son were overnight guests at the Jack Barak home on Friday night and luncheon guests on Saturday at the Bob Davidson home, from there home in Reedport where Mr. Richards is teaching school.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hays and children visited last week with Mrs. Hays' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Warner. They make their home in Corvallis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill B. Marquardt and family visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Messenger Sr. in Mitchell over the weekend.

Mrs. Emma Peck from Pendleton was a visitor in Lexington Sunday, where she visited with her sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Peck; and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Peck.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell and daughters are visiting here with his brother Roger Campbell and family and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Campbell in Hermiston. Campbell is attending NCC in Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Angell and children visited in Bend, over the weekend with Mr. Angell's parents and they brought their small daughter Dee Ann home after several weeks spent there under the doctor's care.

Richard Whilon spent last weekend visiting with his father Armin Whilon from his home in Redmond. Whilon is staying here while employed by Gar Aviation.

Mrs. Nita Grey was visiting here for a short time on Saturday from Ukiah.

Miss Phyllis Nolan is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Nolan from Northwest Christian college where she is going to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones and children and Larry Angell were dinner guests at the Jack Barak home on Sunday.

Most of the teachers from the Lexington schools attended the O. E. A. convention in Portland over the spring holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mathews also visited with his mother in Newport, Ore.

Let's don't forget the cub scout pack meeting to be held last Wednesday night in March.

Let's don't forget the Easter program at the church on Easter Sunday morning with all classes having a part.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Henderson, and children and Mrs. Henderson from La Grande attended the car show in Pendleton on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Pine Thornburg was consulting a physician in Heppner on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Cutsforth and daughters flew to Lakeview last week where they visited Cutsforth's sister.

Raymond Schoonover, son of Mrs. June Cooper, underwent major surgery in Pioneer Memorial hospital on Wednesday of last week.

(Too Late for Last Week)
Several ladies of the community dropped into the lunch room at school on Tuesday afternoon for a shower for the home ec. shelves. Many different things were received such as flour, sugar, macaroni, spaghetti, and jello and shortening, and some credit slips to the stores. Refreshments of fruit rolls, whipping cream and coffee were served by the girls to the following: Mildred Davidson, Gladys Van Winkle, Jerry Doherty, Marie Steagall, Irene Nolan, Marj. Wright, La Verne Henderson, Delpha Jones and Austa Davidson of Arlington. The following girls were present: Inez O'Neal, Dora Sue Davidson, Beverley Baker, Joan Patrick, Cherry Grey, Nancy Wright, Sue Laney, Barbara and Pat Steagall, and their teacher Mrs. Serge Coval.

Mrs. Andy Davidson visited at the Robert Davidson home from Arlington.

The Columbia Union C. E. convention was held at Athena on March 9th and 10th. Those going from here were Bill Parsons Jr., Tommy Martin, Paula Barak, and Charlene Jones. They were taken to Athena by Norman Northrup. The ladies of the Lexington Christian and Congregational Sunday schools are meeting at the church on Wednesday, March 21 afternoon at 2:30 to start a woman's organization, to work together for the good of the church. All ladies of the church and any others interested are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Sixth and Seventh Grade News

Mr. Hausler presented a class pin to Linda Hams for having the best penmanship.

Our room received added decoration in large green alphabet cards. They are above the blackboard and doors of our front wall.

Art works include finger chalk of Linda Halvorsen, Dalene McDonald, Kenneth Smouse, and Theresa Esteb. Likewise the finger paintings of Jack Crum, Lona White, Linda Hams, Dianna Pettyjohn, Michele Morrison and Dalene McDonald.

Shots We Like

Mrs. Glass came to our room Friday March 9. She said she was here to give us shots. A few children got scared because they said they had had enough shots already. But what a surprise when she told us what kind of shots they were! They were slides about the Navajo Indians which the fourth grade had been studying about. From 2:30 till 3:30 the slide questions and answers went on. They were very interesting. She showed us what kind of rugs they made, what their houses look like, and what they wear. At the end of the show she showed us some of the things the Navajo's make: silver bracelets, rings, belts, forks, spoons, and a beautiful black pottery bowl.

1st Grade Enjoyed Vacation

We had a good four-day vacation. We played outdoors because it was warm. Five children went on vacation trips. John Gaarsland went to his grandfather's farm where he saw a little new-born calf.

Jerry Stefan's cousin Stephen is coming to visit Jerry for a few weeks next summer.

The children are enjoying their Weekly Readers. There are many interesting stories in them.

4th and 5th Grade Finger Paintings

We have been doing finger painting and have some very nice displays on our bulletin board.

One pupil distributes a cover paper for our desk. Another pupil distributes the paper which we finger paint on. First we write our name on the back of this paper. After that someone puts water on it then we rub it all over the paper. After that is done a pupil gives us some starch to rub on also.

Then Mrs. Ely, our teacher, gives us some powdered paint. We blend it in and start making our design or picture. When it is all finished we put it on some paper on the floor and let it dry. When it is all dried Mrs. Ely cuts it around the edges to make it smaller. When that is done she looks them over to see which ones are the best. Then she puts them on the bulletin-board
