

Boardman Senior Named Prom Queen

By Mary Lee Marlow

Pat Kress, high school senior, was crowned queen of the prom Saturday night in the gymnasium. William Garner was master of ceremonies and crowned the queen. Her escort was Bill Thorpe. Princesses and escorts were Marie Potts and Bill Coder, Betty Olmstead and Bob Mulcrone, Connie Baker and Gerald Anderson, Lorena Coder and Charles Neal. Nancy Pace was flower girl and Duane Rogers was crown bearer.

Theme of the prom was "My Blue Heaven", and the gym was beautifully decorated with moon and stars falling from a false ceiling. The junior class did the decorating with their adviser, Sid Cloud. Music was furnished by Rod Esselstyn's orchestra, of Pendleton.

The Garden club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Wyss. Roll call was answered by giving a new plant members plan to plant this year. In the absence of Mrs. Florence Root, president, and Mrs. I. T. Pearson, vice-president, Mrs. Ed Kunze, secretary, presided over the meeting.

The club plans its annual flower show at the grange hall on May 24. Mrs. Rollin Bishop will be chairman of the show. Mrs. Arthur Allen will be in charge of flowers, and Mrs. Kunze will be chairman of the kitchen committee.

The project of naming the roads on the Boardman project is being carried out, and the state highway department from Salem installed some of the names last week. Six tables have been installed by the Garden club in the city park recently. The tables were made by the high school shop class.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tannehill went to La Grande Sunday to visit at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tannehill. They returned home Monday.

Lyle Williams was a patient in Good Shepherd hospital in Hermiton from Saturday till Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Worden went to McMinnville over the weekend to see Worden's brother, Lester Worden, who is critically ill.

TO THE EDITOR . . .

To the Editor:
Inclosing check for next year's Gazette Times which I cannot be without.

I deeply appreciate reading the article pertaining to the lone school of 1904. As many of these students in later years were very close friends of mine and I have not seen them for over 30 long years and often think of them as childhood friends are always dearest in life's memories. The little girls Marie Cason was a close friend, also her folks and brothers and sisters, as were the Blake boys, the Dobyms, Buschkes, Clay Wood, Walter and Hobart Johnson, the Mason boys, the Granger children, the Pettys children and many more.

I was raised in Lexington and was one of the four to be the first to enlist in World War I, and in those early days of 1900 lone to Heppner was a day's travel by team and buggy so social contacts were very limited. Once in a while some of the business men of Ione—Bert Mason, Mat Halvorsen, and others would stop in Lexington and tell us the happenings of Ione.

I read another article from the lone school about a year ago rebe an admission charge to the rodeo.

garding the population of the surrounding country. This article contained a lot of thought for Morrow county, and U. S. A. In 1910, as I remember, about every section of 640 supported a family and there were many country schools where we were taught were free at discipline. My first teacher was Miss Elsie Palmer and she walked over the mountains to teach for $40 a month and she was wonderful.

In Ione there were three stores and two hotels and some saloons and a very few people in debt. In Lexington there were three fine stores, a drug store, two hotels, two livery stables, two blacksmith shops and two barber shops and wheat was 60c per bushel.

Another article I read in March 29 GT was the passing of our very dear friend and former merchant Ruffie Nichols. To be sure all that lived in Morrow county in Ruffie's time will remember him as he was a friend of us teenagers as well as to the people of the county. In the last few years I have always stopped to visit Ruffie and Lulu, but both are now gone.

To the Editor:
Mrs. R. A. Thompson of Heppner sent me a copy of your paper containing an account of the finding of the bottle at the lone school grounds which was planted with a tree on Arbor Day 1904. This brought forth a flood of memories as I lived there at the time and Mr. S. I. Stratton was superintendent of Morrow county schools at the time. Emille is our son, and we lived in Ione at the time of the Heppner flood in 1903.

THE TRAILBLAZERS

The Trailblazers met April 12 at the home of Mrs. C. M. Wagner. We sang the Pathfinder song and Omer Huston gave the opening prayer. We practiced our marching with Dr. Wagner and spent the rest of the time getting our mineral display boxes finished.

After the church service on April 14 our Investiture service was held. Elder Reisig, who is head of the junior missionary conference district, was here from Spokane to take charge of the service. He gave us a talk and each of us received an honor in leather craft and rock and minerals. Omer Huston gave short talk on what we had to do to get an honor and Steve and Peggy Estberg each told something about leather craft. Those getting honors were Maria Robinson, JoAnn Robinson, Peggy and Steve Estberg, Billy Wagner and Omer Huston.

Tuesday evening several friends dropped in at the George Allyn home to celebrate his 84th birthday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. George Steagall and family, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Breeding, Mr. and Mrs. Allyn and son Lyle. Refreshments of cake, coffee and ice cream were served. The cake was made by Mrs. George Steagall. Stevie Peck returned home after several days in the hospital suffering from a brain concussion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peck.

Barbara Steagall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Steagall, is recuperating from an injury received last week.

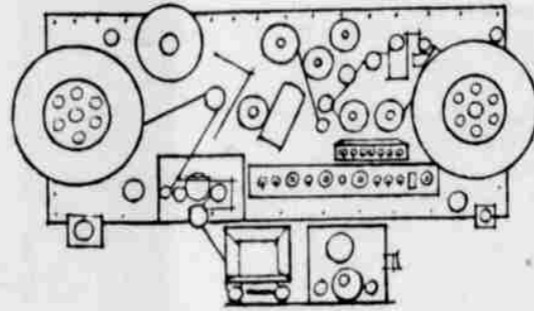

THE HAPPY BLUEBIRDS

The Happy Bluebirds met for their regular weekly meeting on April 10.

We are making puppets. Today we went on a hike and picked wild flowers. We also caught a salamander and some tadpoles and frog eggs.
