WANTED: Young man willing to work hard and earn big money. Apply to Everett Keithley, Service Manager, at Rosewall Motor Company.

ROSY SAYS: The United States Air Force has been trying for two years to establish a unit of the Ground Observer Corps in Heppner. I have been present at four different meetings when men from the armed services have been present and either made talks or shown pictures to present the need for such service in this area. They pass out cards to be filled out and mailed in to headquarters to show your interest in this work, but the response has always been disappointing. I can't believe the people of this community are any less patriotic than hundreds of other communities in the United States but for some reason they just haven't been impressed with the need for this service enough to volunteer a small portion of their time to the cause. Its true, we are all so busy trying to make a living that we don't have time to live, but it would be foolish to build up our community and our home and then lose it all to some dictator just because we tried to dodge our responsibility.
