Popular Summer Foods

During the summer months, because of the trend toward carefree easy meals, certain foods find general use. Among those foods bought by most homemakers are cold cuts and cheese, because they offer such variety and are convenient to use. To stand at the cases in the supermarket and look at the number of varieties of each of these foods is a revelation. Displays are enticing and usually we buy more than we need.

During hot weather, when most home refrigerators are stocked with both cheese and cold cuts, care must be given in storing these foods to keep optimum quality. Special care must be given the cold meats especially, as they are usually sliced and lose quality quickly if not properly wrapped and stored.

For a wrap, the transparent plastic household film is ideal. It molds itself around the cheese or meat, keeping air out and moist goodness in. For the opened packages of sliced meat, make certain that the slices are placed one on top of another compactly before wrapping with saran. Sliced cheese, too, should be handled the same way.

Other advantages of using this transparent plastic film for wrapping such foods as meat and cheese are: the odor of strong cheese and garlic in some meats will not be absorbed by other foods in the refrigerator; and due to the "see-through" quality of the wrap, there will be no difficulty in finding the type of meat or cheese that you want because each can be readily identified through the film.

Rigby are attending the Episcopal church camp in Cove this week. Mrs. Charles O'Connor took them over.

Elvin Miller and Albert Lindstrom have started wheat harvest near Morgan.
