CAPITAL PARADE

The death of Justice Latourette removed the only Democrat from the Oregon Supreme Court.

Each of the seven Justices were appointed to their first terms to fill a vacancy, six vacancies by death, the other when Justice J. O. Bailey resigned in 1950.

Justice George Rossman is the oldest member in years of service having appointed to succeed Justice George H. Barnett in 1927. He has been reelected at the expiration of each term.

LEGAL TRANSLATIONS
Opinions on Oregon laws recently made by Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton include the following:

Where two acts are passed by the legislature at the same session and approved by the governor on the same day, the act containing an emergency clause prevails if there is a conflict or inconsistency.

The presumption that a special act is intended to remain in force as an exception to a later general act is particularly applicable where both laws are enacted at the same time.

Teachers possess the authority to control the conduct of pupils attending school functions after school hours when such pupils are not accompanied by parents or under parental control.

School boards may enact rules or regulations for control of student department at extra-curricular activities conducted on school premises or under auspices of the school.

FEDERAL-STATE HUNTERS
Coyotes caused the loss of more livestock, poultry and game in Oregon this year than any other of the predators. Dogs were next with foxes, bobcats and raccoons next in order. In one 30-day period this summer a total of 608 predators were killed including 183 coyotes, 127 bobcats, 58 raccoons, 43 bears, 60 foxes, 18 skunks, 42 badgers and 77 porcupines. There is no report of dogs killed—if any were.

Known livestock losses in Oregon during the first half of this year due to predators total 1,214 livestock, 732 poultry and 26 game birds and animals.

The state department of agriculture recently allocated $30,000 for the control of predatory animals during the current fiscal year. J. F. Short, director of agriculture reports. This amount was made available by the 1955 legislature and must be matched by 32 of Oregon's 36 counties receiving them.
