Deadline for mailing absentee ballots to those who have made application is October 26 . . . 45 people were killed in Oregon traffic accidents last month boosting the eight-month traffic toll to 269 which is seven more deaths than were reported for the same period last year . . . their execution. If you have taken a book on government from the library and read it this year you are 99 percent ahead of the average voter.

A small group in my neighborhood, doing research on government, can reveal a great deal that is not on the surface.

If you want to know how your Senators and Representatives performed in the Legislature at Salem you can get the Concluding Calendar, the Senate Journal and House Journal from the State Library. If your local library or the state depository libraries near you do not have these, and the State Library have all their copies "out", the Secretary of State usually can fill these orders promptly.

The progress of all bills, those that became law, those that failed to pass, those that "died" in committee, were withdrawn or vetoed, can be found in the above publications.

However, now is the time to load the old musket and turn the bloodhounds loose. LO: THE POOR INDIAN

More Northwest Indians are attending regular schools and colleges as integration of the Indian race with the rest of the public speeds ahead in the west.

This year there are only 100 Northwest Indian students at historic old Chemawa Indian school, near Salem. Last year there were only 150 and 400 only four years ago.

Indian children from Grand Ronde and Siletz tribes are not eligible to attend Chemawa. Those tribes recently sold most of their reservation lands and have relinquished Indian privileges.

Navajo children now predominate at Chemawa. A picturesque caravan of 500 Navajo Indian boys and girls from Arizona, Utah and New Mexico recently arrived at Chemawa.

MOTOR VEHICLE VIOLATIONS

A total of 78 drivers had licenses suspended in August because of traffic law violations or accidents. Six drivers were grounded because they were involved in fatal accidents. Oregon law permits the department to suspend a driver's license when he has by incompetent reckless or unlawful operation, caused or contributed to an accident resulting in the death or serious injury of any other person or serious property damage.

Other seasons for licenses suspensions last month included while intoxicated 317, reckless driving 66, violation of basic rule 51, hit and run 4, failure to report an accident 83, driving record 44, and failure to pass tests 11.

Prices remained steady with the best veal taken at $19.30 cwt. Steer calves did well with a high of $17.90 cwt. and top fat hogs brought $17.70 cwt.
