Loss-Odom Wedding Held At Bride's Home In Arlington

At an afternoon ceremony September 8 at the home of her parents in Arlington, Miss Carol Louise Odom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Odom, became the bride of Franklin Joseph Loss, son of Mrs. Angelo Loss and the late Mr. Loss of Coquille.

Rev. Lester Boulden of the Heppner Methodist church read the double ring service in the presence of the family and a few friends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white net over slipper satin with white lace bodice and sleeves. A coronet of seed pearls and sépkins held in place her elbow length veil. She carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid, from which fell a cascade of white ribbon streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Helen Johnson of Snohomish, Washington, was dressed in a pastel green ballerina length gown and carried a sunburst cluster of white asters. The bride's small sister, Julia Odom, was the candle lighter and wore a black and white checked taffeta dress with a red sash. Best man was William V. Hogg, Jr.

The bridal party stood in a setting of large baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums with candleabras with white candles on either side, on the piano was a low arrangement of flowers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a three tiered cake decorated with bells and roses and the traditional bride and groom.

After the bride and groom had cut the first piece of cake, it was cut and served by Mrs. Robert Zielinski of Gervais, aunt of the bride. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Troedson of Heppner presided at the tea service and her other grandmother, Mrs. Edith Odom of Salem, had charge of the punch bowl.

During the reception, the bride and groom assisted by Mrs. John Deen opened their gifts. Mrs. Deen also had charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Lester Boulden played "To A Wild Rose", "Cansome Amorous" and the Bridal chorus preceding the ceremony, she also played the wedding march.

The bride is a graduate of Arlington high school with the class of 1955 and is now employed by the Pacific Telephone Company.

A Fortright Answer-

After receiving a circular letter advertising a "saving" on fire and automobile insurance offered by a "mail-order" insurance concern, Tom R. Phillips, Editor of the Holdenville (Okla.) Daily News, published the following editorial:

"No, thanks! We shall be obliged to reject the offer . . . We get insurance rates by purchasing our insurance protection from established, reputable local agents who are here on the ground and whose services will be available should we have a loss against which we are protected in the standard insurance policies in our safe.

"Moreover, the established insurance agents are our friends and neighbors. They help support the churches that provide me and mine spiritual stimulation; they help support the police agencies that protect my property against plunder; they help support the fire department that protects my property against fire; they help support the city, county, and state.

"Why should I take my insurance business from these benefactors, these friends, these fellow-citizens and give it to some foreign concern that doesn't care a tinker's dam about Holdenville, except for what profit they can extract from Holdenville?"

"Cheap insurance is like any other cheap commodity; it's very apt to be more expensive in the long run."
