REGISTRATION TRENDS
Reports on voter registrations received from Oregon counties reveal a definite pattern of Democratic gains that has been piling up like compound interest for the past six years. The current presidential year has increased the tempo in 95 percent of the counties of the state.

Marion County has been considered the strongest Republican county in the state for the past 62 years and has held the same repute here that Maine has in the Nation for political predictions. The slogan, "As Maine goes, so goes the Nation," was coined by political press agents for Ben Harrison in 1888. They were astutely smug in this as Maine delivered top percentage Republican victories for over a quarter of a century. Marion County has followed the GOP pattern.

County Registrar Gladys White reported Monday that Marion County had an alltime high registration of voters totaling 52,394. This is 1,946 over the previous record high of 50,448 recorded in the 1952 presidential election. Most of the gains went to the Democrats who picked up 2,120 voters over the 1954 figures while Republicans gained 965.

In presidential election years record registrations have been established since the state started its heavy population gains. Registrations drop on non-presidential years making comparisons with presidential years more accurate for comparison.

Total registration figures received from Oregon counties reveal an increase of registered voters paralleling the state's growth with these trends:

1. Democrats steadily gaining over Republicans in 70 per cent of counties.
2. Women voters establishing majorities over men in 28 per cent of counties.

3. Suburban districts gaining over urban registrations.

YULE TREE GROWERS
Stiff fines are now being collected for Christmas tree "thievery". It is no longer an easy trick to cut a fir tree along the roadside, in a forest or a farmer's pasture. These points were brought out Saturday at a meeting of the Northwest Christmas Tree Association in Salem.

No immediate shortage in Christmas trees is expected, however, in this $6,000,000 Oregon industry, said William Penny, of the South Santiam Tree Farm, who operates on a 125,000 acre "farm" near Sweet Home. This year 700,000 trees will be planted in the reforestation project, he said. Planting will start shortly

Wool Contest Is Still Open For Entries

EUGENE—Girls who enjoy the fun of sewing still have time to get their entries in for the "Make It Yourself with Wool" contest before state finals scheduled for November 9, Mrs. Marion Krebs, state contest director, said today.

At the state finals, to be held at the Meier and Frank department store in Portland, two girls from each of Oregon's contest districts will compete for junior and senior sewing championships.

Young women who want to match their sewing skill against that of their classmates and friends throughout the state can still enter a coat, suit, dress or ensemble of 100 per cent wool in the $40,000 competition.

Sub-Deb Division Popular
Many girls between the ages of 13 and 15 are competing in the special skirt division in which valuable prizes will be awarded at the time of district eliminations.

For further details of the contest girls should contact Mrs. Krebs or the Wool Bureau, 16 West 46 St., New York 36.

Awards in State Finals include: two trips to the National Finals to be held in Las Vegas, courtesy of F. W. Woolworth Co.; portable Singer sewing machines; all-wool fabric lengths, Savings Bonds, and scholarships. National awards include: Singer console sewing machines; two-week trips to Europe via Rainbow Service of Pan American World Airways presented by Pendleton Woolen Mills and the Wool Bureau; scholarships and Savings Bonds.

Prize donors are: Botany Mills, Inc.; Chamberlin's Handweavers of Seattle; Colorado Woman's College; John Dritz and Sons; Forstmann Woolen Co.; Handweaver and Craftsman magazine; McCall's Patterns; Pendleton Woolen Mills; Sag-Nor Jersey; Singer Sewing Machine Co.; Standard Felt Co.; S. Stroock & Co., Inc.; Woolite; F. W. Woolworth Co.; and Coats and Clark, Inc.

WAYNE'S SISTER AIDS
Mrs. Caryl Kline, Senator Wayne Morse's sister who is a Syracuse, N. Y. college faculty member, has been campaigning in Oregon for her brother since September.

In addressing a Marion-Polk Democratic club Wednesday she laughingly told of having beat the senator in switching to the Democrat party.

Mrs. Kline denied Republican claims of absenteeism on the senator's part at the time of crucial votes. He has been present 96.7 per cent of the time in his 12 years in the Senate to cast votes on key issues, she said. The picture in a recently released released Republican pamphlet showing Senator Morse speaking before an empty Senate Chamber, was a distortion of the truth, she said. It was taken about 3 o'clock in the morning and, an additional sizeable group of other Democrats seated nearby was cut out of the picture.

PINBALLS GO TO SCHOOL
Van loads of pinball machines whose operation has been banned in Portland by city ordinance, will be used for electronic experimentation at Oregon State College, Corvallis, Clark Junior College, Vancouver and Benson Polytechnic High School in Portland.

The machines which have a considerable resale value were donated to the schools by Stan Terry, Portland.

PAINFUL TAX PAYING
Property taxes are due the week following the Nov. 6th general election—too late then to nail down the legislative candidates in your district and give them your views on the 1955 legislature's schematized tax measures.
