

Heppner Bows to Moro; Final Game Nov. 12 With Echo

By Jim Morris

The Heppner Mustang eleven traveled to Moro Friday, October 26, where they tangled with the Sherman High Huskies in a non-league encounter. They fell victims to a team with the title of Huskies for the second time this year by the score of 27-7.

The 27-7 would indicate that game was a breather for the Huskies, but it was a much tougher game than the score shows.

The Mustangs started the game off by kicking to the Huskies. After a series of plays they forced the Husky eleven to punt. The Mustangs then took over but after only a few plays they fumbled and an alert Husky defense covered it. From here the Huskies rolled to the first T. D. of the game but the try for point was no good.

From this point until the half both teams fought in a scoreless deadlock.

After the intermission the Mustangs took the ball and marched all the way to their only score of the contest. The try for point was good and they led 7-6. They kicked to Moro and then forced the Huskies to punt. They then took the ball all the way to the Moro 1 yard line. But then lady luck turned on them as they fumbled and the ball rolled into the end zone where an alert Husky pounced on it. From this point on the Huskies got stronger and the Mustangs got weaker as the Huskies went on to win.

Next game and last of the season for the Mustangs will be played at the Heppner field at 2 p. m. November 12, as the Mustangs meet their old rivals the Echo Cougars in a league encounter.

Pvt. Jerry Buschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Buschke, was home on leave from Fort Ord over the weekend, before going overseas to Germany.

Local Condemnation High in Pilot Meat Inspection Plan

The highest percentage of condemnation for the second round of pilot meat inspections turned up in Gilliam, Morrow, Sherman, Lake and parts of Columbia and Marion counties where the program's second round ended recently, according to Dr. Rolla Sexauer, who supervises the program for the state department of agriculture.

One-and-a-half percent of all carcasses was condemned as unfit for human consumption. Out of 635 animals checked before and after slaughter, 10 were rejected in postmortem inspections. These species breakdown on these condemnations was: four cattle, one calf, four sheep and one swine.

Parts of animals condemned from human use totaled 248 and were 228 livers, 10 heads, four hearts and six tongues.

Meat food products rejected in the five counties during this second round pilot meat inspection totaled 555 pounds. Mold caused the condemnation of 60 pounds of beef trimmings, 50 pounds of polish rings and 65 pounds of sausage products. One-hundred pounds of soured beef cheeks were rejected, as were 50 pounds of hearts, livers and tongues held too long in a cooler. Pilot meat inspectors also condemned 230 pounds of minced ham in which spoiled meats were used.

Plans for the program's third round are underway at this time. The department will report its findings to the legislature before the 1957 session convenes.

U. S. Farm Product Exports Register Near Record Gains

Stronged foreign markets for U. S. farm products, despite less foreign aid grants and loans by this country, point to one of the best agricultural export years on record, according to Mrs. Elvera Horrell, Oregon State college economist.

Greater economic activity abroad, coupled with government programs to move surplus farm commodities in exchange for foreign currency, have helped spark the strong foreign demand, the economist says.

More liberal import policies among foreign countries, more dollars, and shortages of some crops have contributed to the stepped-up activity, Mrs. Horrell states. She also points to general upgrading of living standards abroad that promises further expansion of our farm export market.

Shipments of farm products to foreign markets during the fiscal year ending July 1 were up 10 percent over the previous year and the trend is continuing strong. The value of July-August exports was 22 percent higher than for the same months in 1955.

Foreign customers are now paying for what they buy, for the most part, while direct foreign aid grants and loans by this country are declining. Government programs to move farm products into overseas markets for sale and barter are helping Mrs. Horrell reports. In 1953-54, about 25 percent of U. S. farm exports moved out under government programs. The ratio rose to nearly 40 percent in 1955-56.

Meanwhile, this country has increased agricultural imports with most of the gain coming in coffee, rubber and carpet wool. Total agricultural imports during the past fiscal year were slightly over $4 billion, an increase of about $300 million over the previous year.

Farm exports last year set records for feed grains and feed grain products, hides and skins, tallow, fresh oranges, grapes, soybeans, and cottonseed and soybean oils. Export increases in the current fiscal year include wheat, cotton, rice, and soybean oil. Tobacco exports have dropped off.

the TRUTH about the FISH BILL!

Here's Why You Should Vote Yes on "7"

- 1. NO FULL-TIME EMPLOYMENT INVOLVED!
Only 200 licenses issued, 1955. NOT 1 NETTER MAKES A LIVELIHOOD netting on any river "7" would completely close to netting. Gross income per license on some streams has now dropped below $500 per year.
- 2. NO PRICE INCREASE IN FRESH SALMON POSSIBLE
Less than 7% of Oregon's salmon catch comes from these streams. Of this insignificant amount, spokesmen for Columbia River Salmon & Tuna Packers Ass'n. said: "About 90% of fish from these rivers are SOLD OUTSIDE OF OREGON." No shortage of fresh fish, nor increase in price can result from voting "7" YES.
- 3. TAXPAYERS SUBSIDIZE SMALL STREAM NETTERS
Total license and poundage fees for a year of netting on one affected stream was less than $1,000 in 1955. In the past 10 years over $2,500,000 of YOUR TAX MONEY has been used by the Oregon Fish Commission, and this agency has for years limited most of its activity to netted streams.
- 4. CHINOOK POPULATIONS FACE DESTRUCTION!
Only a remnant of chinook salmon remain on most netted streams. The non-netted Umpqua River has had increases of over 400% in chinook from only 2 net-free generations.

"7" does not affect ocean or Columbia River fishing!

"We're for SAM"

Because:

- SAM IS SINCERE
Unlike some political candidates, Sam makes only promises he can keep. He has never resorted to personal attack or smear. And you can always count on what he says.
- SAM IS SOUND
He rightfully believes that our free enterprise system, which made this country great, should be preserved and encouraged. He favors a balanced budget and then tax reductions.
- SAM REPRESENTS
He believes that the first obligation is to represent the people who elected him to office. He tries to fulfill the wishes of all the people, and sent out 60,000 questionnaires one year to help him do so.
- SAM WORKS HARD
He got into the habit of hard work during his 22 years as a cattle rancher in Baker county. Last year in Congress he was present for every roll call, a record held by few congressmen.
- ABOVE ALL ---
Sam is one of us—he thinks the way we do.
