Thrifty Meals With Pork

Pork is one of the richest natural sources of vitamin B₁. It has the same high quality complete protein found in all meats. Whether it be a regal loin roast of pork or homey spareribs, every cut of pork has the same important nutrition. Old-fashioned favorites are those pictured.

Bacon and Corn Sauté
12 bacon slices 1 can (1 pound) whole kernel corn
¼ cup finely chopped onion ¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup chopped green pepper ¼ teaspoon pepper

Place bacon slices in cold skillet. Cook over low heat, turning occasionally, until desired degree of crispness. Remove bacon; drain on absorbent paper. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the drippings. Add onion and pepper; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Drain corn; add liquid to skillet and boil rapidly until reduced to approximately ¼ cup. Add corn, salt and pepper; top with bacon slices. Heat to serving temperature.
YIELD: 3 servings.

Sausage and Apple Grill
1 pound sausage meat 3 apples, cored and sliced
¼ cup brown sugar

Form sausage into 6 patties. Place in skillet. Brown on both sides, pouring off fat as it accumulates, about 15 minutes. Remove sausage; pour off all but 3 tablespoons drippings. Add apple slices; sprinkle with brown sugar. Cover; cook over low heat 10 minutes. Add sausage; heat to serving temperature.
YIELD: 3 servings.

4-H CLUB NEWS

CHAT CHAT SEWING CLUB

The meeting of the Chat Chat 4-H club met at the home of Tamera Smith.
Diane Fulleton called the meeting to order. Jackie Brindle made a motion we change our meeting dates to the 1st and 3rd Saturday of the month so our junior leader, Janice Martin could attend, as her club also met when we did.
We talked about selling candy for raising the funds this year for our 4-H council. We all thought it was a good way to raise the money needed.
The next meeting will be at Ann Jones' if the weather is good.

We sewed on our projects the rest of the afternoon. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith. Jennifer Brindle, acting reporter

HINTON-BUTTER CREEK 4-H CLUB

N. C. Anderson came out to show some movies on parliamentary procedure. He showed it before our meeting.
We met at the home of Don Greenup. Merlin Hughes joined our club too.
A bunch of the kids went out to the sheep shed with N. C. Anderson and Mr. Greenup, to look at some of his sheep.
The meeting was adjourned. Refreshments were served. Jacquelyn Brindle, assistant reporter

5 Sheep Shearing Training Schools Scheduled by OSC

Free instruction in sheep shearing is available this spring to both adults and youths at five two-day schools sponsored by Oregon State college, announces John H. Landers, OSC animal husbandry specialist.

Schools are scheduled March 18 and 19, March 20 and 21, and March 22 and 23 at OSC; April 11 and 12 at The Dalles; and May 10 and 11 at Prineville. Applications are available from county extension agents or high school vocational agriculture in structures.

Each two-day class will be limited to 16 persons selected by a committee that will review applications to determine individual need and possible benefit from the course. Applications should reach Landers not later than March 1.

Landers and Paul Rutland, OSC shepherd, will conduct demonstration classes on shearing, preparation of wool for market, and care of shearing equipment. Each student will shear about 10 sheep during the two days. Equipment will be furnished by the school.

Instruction is open to any Oregon resident regardless of age who is big enough to hold and shear a sheep, usually about age 15. Landers explains. He says the school is designed primarily for folks with farm flocks rather than as training for commercial shears.

The first article we made was a needle holder. We were all given boxes of 4-H candy to sell to raise money for the club. For refreshments we had brownies, date bars and cookies and hot chocolate. Our next meeting will be at Merilee Leathers home on Feb. 15.

IONE JOLLY CHEFS

The Ione Jolly Chefs met Wednesday, January 31 after school, at the home of Marilyn Morgan.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Dianna Pettyjohn. All members were present. Peggy Voorhees was a guest.

Marilyn Morgan demonstrated making a honey salad dressing. The next meeting will be held February 9.

Marilyn served refreshments of hot cocoa and cupcakes at the close of the meeting.

Some young "alumni" of the school have gone semi-commercial, however, putting themselves through college with money earned from summer shearing stints for neighbors.

State Wheat Study Recommendations Due at Conference

One of the most thorough self-studies ever carried out by a major agricultural commodity group will be reported at the Oregon Wheat Industry conference, scheduled in Portland February 19 and 20. The conference is sponsored by Oregon State college.

Faced with large stocks of wheat in surplus warehouses, Oregon wheat growers decided a year ago to try to find their way out of lowering wheat crop values and reduced acreages. Value of the state's wheat crop has dropped 40 percent in the last three years—from around $74 million in 1953 to $44 million in 1955.

Rather than rely entirely on government programs, growers agreed to adopt a "do-it-yourself" attitude. Through the Oregon Wheat Growers league, they asked the college to help them study their problems. A study patterned after a similar investigation of the wheat industry in 1925, was set up. Eighteen sub-committees, under the direction of four main conference committees, have now completed studies of trends and problems in the wheat industry during the last 30 years. More than 200 persons representing wheat growers, dealers, millers, bakers, livestock feeders, home-makers, exporters, and many other groups have worked together during the year.

The four main conference committees were assigned problems areas in marketing, government programs, production and land use, and farm incomes and costs. Problems uncovered, and recommendations for solving these problems, will be reported at the conference.

All conference sessions will be open to the public, the conference planning committee stressed. Meetings will be held in the Multnomah hotel.

Come in and take our IH
"V-8 PERFORMANCE TEST"

Trucks for every job, from the world's most complete truck line—½-ton pickups to 90,000 lb. models.

Here's your chance to test the same heavy-duty trucks that are breaking performance records all over America in every type of operation.

Simply drop in or phone and we'll arrange for you to drive a new INTERNATIONAL Heavy-Duty V-8.

We want you to take it out on the roads you know are rough. We'd like you to see how fast it takes off from traffic lights—see how it walks away and leaves other trucks on grades—see how much less downshifting you do.

And while you're checking performance, keep in mind that these new V-8's are setting new records for operating economy, too!

Come in and take our "V-8 performance test" today!

Over the years INTERNATIONAL TRUCKS cost least to own! (and owners' cost records prove it)
