

Boardman, Ione Add to Heppner's String of Losses

By Jim Morris

The Heppner Mustangs traveled to Boardman Friday where they were stung again by the Yellowjackets by a score of 55-41.

The Mustangs were completely dominated in the first quadrant as the Jackets ripped the cord for 19 points and held the Mustangs to a slim 5 points. In the second stanza the Mustangs partially recovered from the Yellowjacket's first period spurge, as they hit 16 points to leave the floor with the Boardman quint on the top half of a 35-21 margin.

After the intermission the teams fought on even terms until the final buzzer sounded, as neither team could outscore their opponent.

Scoring: Heppner—Grosheens 15, Prock 4, Dougherty 0, Morris 7, Alderman 10, Ruhl 2, Huffman 0, Pettyjohn 1, Laughlin 2, Connor 0.

Boardman—Eades 19 Taylor 0, Thorpe B. 9, Thorpe J. 4, Shattuck M. 0, Shattuck D. 0, Aardappel 9, Peck 5, Kress 9, Garner 0.

Ione Wins Again
Heppner and Ione collided in one of their yearly battles Saturday night on the Mustang's home court. Both teams fought on even terms right down to the final buzzer and the Cardinals emerged a 56-49 winner.

The Cards opened the tilt by potting 6 points before the Mustangs found their range but the Cardinals moved to a 12-11 quarterly edge. In the second stanza the Ione quint moved out to a 28-25 lead at half time.

In the third period action the two teams battled in a nip and tuck struggle to put the score at 43-37 at the end of that quarter. In the final panel the Mustangs poured on the steam as they moved out in front by a 47-43 count. This was short lived as the Ione five canned a quick 13 points to take the tilt.

Scoring: Heppner (49):—Grosheens 11, Prock 4, Morris 6, Connor 4, Dougherty 8, Alderman 5, Ruhl 11. Ione (56):—McKinney 2, Salter 21, Ball 6, Sherer 6, Brannon 21, Howton 0.

Traffic Violations High During January

It was the first month in a new year, but many Oregon drivers were up to their same old driving tricks in January.

More than 10,000 were convicted of violating the state's traffic laws, according to the Oregon Traffic Safety Commission.

In addition, 748 drivers had their licenses suspended on offenses ranging from driving while intoxicated to failure to yield right-of-way.

The department of motor vehicles, through its drivers license division, handed out 183 of the suspension total, 110 to drivers who had accumulated too many accidents or violations to be considered safe risks behind-the-wheel.

Other reasons for the suspensions included: driving while intoxicated, 281; reckless driving, 64; violation of basic rule, 48; hit and run, 13; failure to report an accident, 40; and failure to stop, 5.

Ninety-five of the suspensions amounted to extensions of previous "no driving" orders when drivers were caught operating on an already suspended license.

Fashion Authority To Discuss Sewing Here February 22

Women of Morrow county will have an opportunity to attend a special discussion on home sewing by Mrs. Jane Scott from the Simplicity Pattern company at 1:30 p. m. February 22 at the Methodist church basement. Her talk will include a demonstration of how to determine the correct pattern size for various adult figures—the prime requirement for making a well-fitting garment. Incidentally, Mrs. Scott is herself an example of a perfect half size figure.

Other subjects of interest to be included in her discussion will be styles becoming to various figure types and suitable fabrics and colors for each. Diagrams and charts will illustrate some of the features Mrs. Scott will point up. She will also show new types of fabrics and will give suggestions for accessorizing your wardrobe.

Mrs. Scott travels all over the United States working with adult groups. Her program was originated by the educational division of Simplicity Patterns for women's groups, extension service people, home demonstration and county agents, and clothing specialists. She has had extensive experience in the educational field where, for 12 years, she worked closely with clothing teachers and their teen-age students, right in the clothing classrooms. On these visits to schools, Mrs. Scott presented simple-to-make patterns for beginning sewing students, pointed out the features which make them easy to sew. For the past five years she has traveled for Simplicity, working in various states through the cooperation of the U. S. extension service.

When in New York City, she also acts as official hostess for the Simplicity Pattern company, receiving educators, clothing specialists and home economists from all over the world when they visit the work rooms and design studio of the company. She also serves in a liaison capacity between the New York board of education and the pattern company. For further information contact the county agent's office.

Prices Hold High On Most Cattle

HERMISTON — The weather warmed up and so did the market at the Hermiston Livestock Commission Co. sale Friday where 84 consignors placed 352 cattle, 152 hogs and 33 sheep on the auction block.

While volume picked up demand still exceeded supply, the result being high prices on almost all grades. Veal sold very strong with a range of $20.20 to $23.95 cwt. Close behind were steer calves with a $18.10-$19.40 cwt spread. Bulls were also up with a range of $13.35 to $15.50 cwt. Hog prices were steady with feeder pigs topping at $19.10 cwt and fat hogs hitting a high of $18.80 cwt.

For next Friday's sale the wanted sign is out for all grades with fed heifers and heifer calves in special demand. The market:

CATTLE—Baby calves, 6.50 to 21 per head; steer calves, 18.10 to 19.40 cwt.; veal, 20.20 to 23.95 cwt.; heifer calves, 15.80 to 16.90 cwt.; fed steers, 15.75 to 18.20 cwt.; stocker steers, 14.10 to 16.50 cwt.; fat heifers, 15.75 to 17.40 cwt.; stock cows, 102.50 to 125 per head; dairy cows, 101 to 137.50 per head; commercial-utility cubs, 11.30 to 14.50 cwt.; canner-cutter cows, 8.50 to 10.30 cwt. with few Holsteins to 11.30 cwt.; shells, 6.50 to 7.90 cwt.; and bulls, 13.35 to 15.50 cwt.

HOGS—Weaner pigs, 8 to 11 per head; fat hogs, 17.90 to 18.80 cwt.; sows, 13.40 to 16.30 cwt.; and feeder pigs, 18.25 to 19.10 cwt.

SHEEP—Feeder lambs, 14.10 to 16 cwt.; yearling weathers, 10.75 to 12 cwt.; and ewes, 20 to 25 per head.

Those earning top prices at the market included Elmer Meland, Echo, 18.80 cwt. for seven fat hogs of 1430 pounds; T. F. Kirk, Stanfield, 19.10 cwt. for five feeder pigs of 520 pounds; Frank Leeper, Pendleton, 16.30 cwt. for three sows of 1085 pounds; Walt Wiglesworth, Echo, 12 cwt. for two yearling weathers of 350 pounds; J. TO THE EDITOR . . .

Dear Sir:

Being an old Heppnerite, it occurs to me that you and your readers would welcome a story, "Heppner Boy Makes Good."

I am referring to James G. Barratt, son of your prominent Garnet Barratt. As Athletic Business Manager at Oregon State College, Jim is the direct executive assistant to the director of athletics, and what a terrific job Jim is doing.

Few people really have an accurate conception of the enormous planning and work that is incumbent upon Jim Barratt, and usually under terrific pressure.

Some day Jim is ambitious to invent a football field having nothing but 50-yard line seats. Such a Utopia would really relieve Jim Barratt.

Jim has developed terrifically in all respects. Perhaps his biggest single attribute is his uncanny ability to retain his poise and smiling good nature during times of stress, such as just preliminary to a big game.

Lets take a look at Jim Barratt incidental to Oregon State College's recent Rose Bowl game. All that Jim's department had to do was to arrange satisfactory rooming, at a time when rooms were practically unavailable, for about two hundred people, including team, band and staff and wives. He had to organize and look after the proper training table facilities at the California hotel. A few dozen chartered buses down there had to be negotiated. A few large chartered airplanes were arranged. 100,000 tickets at $5.50 each were printed and promptly sold and distributed, with many hundreds of checks returned—due to space limitations—and Jim doesn't like to return checks:

Of course it was necessary that Oregon State set up a Pasadena headquarters well in advance of the game, and what a madhouse this was when you consider the pressure for tickets and the pressure from perhaps one hundred or more of the "gentlemen" of the press, which is a flattering appellation to apply to some of those Southern California sports writers.

On and on, ad infinitum, the work rolls on, and happy and capable Jim Barratt seems never flustered or frustrated. His potential future is terrific.

Jim is extremely fortunate in having for his big boss that outstandingly capable and understanding Roy S. "Spec" Keene. Spec has accomplished wonders in encouraging and developing Jim into his present stature and ability.

Yes, all of Morrow county may take pride in saying, "I know Jim Barratt." Jim is so popular that I believe he could be elected to just about any office to which he might aspire, even though his opponent might be a Democrat.

WHEAT LEAGUE ECONOMIST visits "Live Better Electrically" show. Need of the average American household for adequate wiring and enough circuits to serve the electrical conveniences and comforts preferred by today's busy families highlighted a display of residential switch panels that drew the attention of Miss Naida Whybark, home economist for the Oregon Wheat League, during a "Live Better Electrically" program in Portland. Wes A. Dunn, residential sales manager for Pacific Power & Light company, explained to the league's representative that the 200-ampere panel would permit 36 electrical circuits to meet home-maker demands for electric service.
