"The Worst Sorrows in Life Are Its Fears"

It is surprising that there are still people who fear to their Dentist regularly. They are afraid that they possibly discover a cavity that needs filling.

They forget that neglecting to take care of one's teeth, always results in considerable pain later. Your Dentist can prescribe the proper vitamins and antibiotics that will help to keep your teeth long.

Should he suggest any particular dental aid, we will be glad to follow his instructions exactly.

Why not try a cook's tour of your own design and serve, in appropriate Italian setting, Pizza Lamb Chops and Risotto—an admirable way of cooking rice as essentially Italian as spaghetti, a tossed green salad, with that famous soft custardy wine dessert—Zabaglione (hot or cold) to finish your adventuring with a flourish.

LAMB SHOULDER CHOPS, PIZZA STYLE
Yield: 1 chop per serving

Choose 3/4-inch thick lamb shoulder chops, arm or blade bone, allowing 1 chop for each serving. Using a heavy frying pan or electric skillet, brown each chop carefully on both sides in a small amount of butter or drippings over moderate heat. Sprinkle each with salt, coarse-grind black pepper, garlic salt.

Spread 1 tablespoon tomato paste over each chop, then sprinkle with 1/4 teaspoon of oregano. (Marjoram or thyme may be used.) Top each chop with a slice of Mozzarella cheese, without which Pizza is not Pizza. Spread the cheese with an additional teaspoon of tomato paste. Sprinkle liberally with chopped parsley, and, if you like, add strips of flat-packed anchovies.

Cover the skillet tightly and simmer very slowly until chops are fork-tender, about 45 minutes. If moisture is needed, a bit of tomato juice, stock or water may be added. If desired, a thin slice of cheese may top each chop five minutes before serving. Serve piping hot.
