Mrs. Erwin's Sixth Grade
Candidates for this room for the student council officers of vice president and secretary are Ann Jones and Judy Bradford. It is felt that they are well-qualified to fill the offices, and to represent the students and the school.

In observance of Mother's Day the students painted china and glassware. They used a permanent dek-all paint which can be baked for extra durability. The patterns to be used on the glassware were drawn and stencils cut, after which preparation, the dishes were painted. They are on display in the glass case of the main hall in the new grade school.

Kita Ross' SECRETS of the GREAT CHEFS

"Adventure a bit with your salad dressings—you may produce a masterpiece." That's the advice in the new Fannie Farmer cook book, just published in an illustrated paperback edition, and it's certainly true.

Few things can give a meal a more exciting touch with less fuss than a salad dressing. Good ingredients are important, of course, but so is "know-how." For example, here's a tangy variation on the French dressing theme:

1/2 cup olive or salad oil
2 tablespoons mild vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper

Mix in a bottle or glass jar with a cover. Chill. When ready to serve, shake hard to blend. You'll be surprised at the admiration you win.

Considering that this French dressing is just one of Fannie Farmer's 3,000 fresh ideas to perk up lagging appetites, the fact that they're publishing her 896-page cook book in an inexpensive paperback edition comes as mighty welcome news.
